

COMMISSION OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES

SEC (89)1575 final

Brussels, 17 October 1989

COMMISSION REPORT

on cooperation with European non-governmental organizations

(NGOs) in fields concerning developing countries

(1988 exercise)

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. At a Council meeting on 28 November 1977, development ministers approved a procedure to be followed for the use of appropriations to cofinance projects with non-governmental organizations (NGOs).*

That procedure includes a stipulation that the Commission will present an annual report to the Council on the use of appropriations allocated during the preceding year.

The Commission accordingly presents this report on the use of the appropriations entered under Article 941 of the 1988 Community budget.

2. Although Article 941 relates solely to project cofinancing in developing countries and the raising of public awareness in the Community, other important areas of cooperation with NGOs are also covered in this report, such as food aid, emergency aid and inter-NGO coordination.

1. INTRODUCTION AND SUMMARY

I. Cooperation between the European Community (EC) and the non-governmental organizations (NGOs) began in 1976 with the aim of adding a new dimension to the Community's development policy. The idea was to enable the Community to take an active part in the expression of solidarity shown by Europe at a non-official level towards the poorest sections of the population in the Third World. That objective was reflected initially in the establishment of a Community budget heading (Article 941) to finance projects in the developing countries with European NGOs. The appropriation, fixed on an experimental basis at ECU 2.5m in 1976, increased progressively in subsequent years to cope with the increase in requests for cofinancing submitted by the NGOs. Accordingly, it reached ECU 14m in 1981, doubled to ECU 28m in 1982, and was then further increased to ECU 45m in 1986. In 1988 an initial sum of ECU 65m was entered in Article 941; this was increased in the course of the year to ECU 80m.

Together with this development of cofinancing, there has been a gradual increase in the share of both food aid and emergency aid which is channelled through NGOs. Lastly, in the last few years specific articles have been included in the budget to cover projects carried out by NGOs (aid for refugees and displaced persons, aid for NGOs operating in Chile, aid for NGOs working to counter drug abuse, support for NGOs working to help the victims of apartheid, support for NGOs active in SADC¹ member States, aid for NGOs operating in the West Bank and Gaza Strip, and so on).

II. Article 941 covers the cofinancing with NGOs of development projects in developing countries and operations to raise public awareness in Europe.

A review of Community cofinancing from the start of operations in developing countries shows that from 1976 to end 1988 the Community contribution totalled ECU 342.2m, allowing 3 080 projects to be cofinanced in developing countries.

These projects were undertaken with 409 NGOs in 117 developing countries. A list of recipient countries with the respective Community contributions is given in Table I (Annex).

The geographical breakdown shows that over the reference period 43% of the funds were allocated to African countries south of the Sahara, 31% to Latin America, 20% to Asia, 5% to the Mediterranean area and 1% to the Pacific. ACP countries² were allocated 44% and non-ACP countries 56% of the total Community contribution.

Nearly half (49%) of the total funds available were allocated to developing countries with a per capita GNP of less than USD 500.

1 SADC: Southern African Development Coordination Conference.

2 ACP: African, Caribbean and Pacific States signatory to the Lomé Convention.

The total joint investment between NGOs and the EC from 1976 to 1988 was around ECU 826m, giving a multiplier effect of 2.4 times the Community contribution; in other words, the Community contribution accounts on average for 40% of joint NGO-EC investment.

In addition, from 1978 to 1988 inclusive the EC cofinanced 556 projects with 220 NGOs at a total cost of ECU 29.3m to raise European public awareness of development issues.

Between 1976 and 1988, 3 636 projects in all were cofinanced under Budget Article 941, representing a total contribution of ECU 371.5m. It is worth noting that half of all the projects were cofinanced and almost two thirds (62%) of all funds were committed during the last four years (1985-88) of this thirteen-year period - evidence of the increasing interest which the Community and the NGOs are taking in this form of development cooperation.

Table II (see Annex) gives a breakdown by Member State of the total Community grant from 1976 to 1988 inclusive.

III. The cofinancing of development projects in developing countries and of projects to raise public awareness in Europe are, however, just two aspects of cooperation between NGOs and the Community. Other equally important aspects are cooperation in the distribution of food aid, emergency relief operations, assistance to refugees and the role of catalyst that the Commission continues to play in the context of inter-NGO cooperation at European level through a constant dialogue with NGOs, both individually and collectively.

Thus, in 1988 the Community contribution committed for the various NGO activities was ECU 266.4m (compared with ECU 223.6m in 1987) and was allocated as follows:

- ECU 79.8m for cofinancing, including operations to raise public awareness;
- ECU 109.3m for food aid;
- ECU 4.8m for the purchase of foodstuffs by NGOs;
- ECU 29.9m for emergency aid;
- ECU 4.2m as aid for refugees and displaced persons;
- ECU 3.0m for aid to NGOs operating in Chile;
- ECU 2.3m for aid on drugs;
- ECU 29.9m for aid to the victims of apartheid;
- ECU 3.0m for aid to SADC member States;
- ECU 0.2m for aid to NGOs operating in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

This report sets out to give an account of the Community's cooperation with NGOs in 1988, dealing in turn with the various aspects while not forgetting the prospects and trends taking shape for the future. It should be noted that three budget articles (relating to apartheid, SADC member States, and the West Bank and the Gaza Strip) are dealt with for the first time in this report.

2. UTILIZATION OF COMMUNITY AID IN 1988

2.1. Cofinancing of NGO projects (Budget Article 941)

Commitment appropriations available under Article 941 of the 1988 Budget amounted initially to ECU 65m.¹ This sum having been committed in full by June 1988, the Commission sought and obtained a further ECU 15m.

The additional ECU 15m has also been committed in full, bringing total commitments for 1988 to ECU 79.8m, with utilization of the available funds approaching 100% (projects in developing countries, public awareness operations and the subsidy for the Liaison Committee).²

It should be stressed that since Article 941 was created, appropriations committed annually have been constantly increasing:

Year	Annual commitments (ECU million)	Utilization rate of available appropriations (%)
1976	2.5	100
1979	12.2	98
1982	26.9	95
1984	34.4	83
1985	42.4	99
1986	45.0	98
1987	62.8	99
1988	79.8	99

The NGOs have therefore shown time and time again that they are capable of fully absorbing budgets which are constantly and sometimes rapidly being increased.

The number of requests under Budget Article 941 processed by the Commission in 1988 was 1 060 (representing a total sum of ECU 159m). Of these, 562 (ECU 79.2m) were cofinanced, 162 (ECU 22.4m) were turned down or withdrawn, and 336 (ECU 57.4m) were carried over to 1989.

2.1.1. Cofinancing of NGO projects in developing countries

With particular reference to projects in developing countries, in 1988 858 requests for cofinancing were processed by the Commission, totalling ECU 142m (compared with ECU 130.3m in 1987). It was possible to cofinance 451 of these projects (as against 423 in 1987), at a cost to the Community of ECU 71.2m (compared with ECU 56.6m in 1987). A further 137 projects, totalling ECU 20.6m, were not adopted or were withdrawn by the NGOs. The remaining 270 requests represented a total of ECU 50.2m and were carried over to 1989.

1 Plus ECU 0.03 million carried over from 1987.

2 In 1988 this subsidy was ECU 520 500.

Up until now, annual increases in budget appropriations have partially helped to offset the carryover of a large number of projects from one year to another. As the table above shows, the budget has increased each year, sometimes substantially. This year, for the first time, there has not been an increase - indeed, the appropriation under Budget Article 941 (ECU 79 million) is slightly lower than in 1988. In view of this, together with the large carryover from 1988 to 1989, and the high number of cofinancing requests at the beginning of the year, it is now foreseeable that the 1989 appropriations will be rapidly used up, in spite of the Commission's efforts to devote the means available to priority projects. In both the short and medium terms, therefore, it is essential to increase appropriations appreciably under Budget Article 941 if the Community does not want to lose the reputation for reliability it has built up among NGOs over the last decade.

The disbursements total of ECU 68.7m in 1988 (compared with ECU 51.5m in 1987) comprises ECU 34.2m under commitments in 1988 and ECU 34.5m under commitments from the preceding years.

Type and scale of projects: block grants

Table IV in the Annex gives a complete list of the 451 projects cofinanced in 1988 in developing countries.

As in the past, the project content is extremely varied and continues to be broken down into three main traditional sectors, namely rural development, training and health. Most of the projects, however, fall within more than one sector, reflecting the integrated approach which is characteristic of NGO operations.

As regards the size of the projects cofinanced, the average contribution was ECU 158 000 in 1988, as against ECU 134 000 in 1987. Although the Community contribution can be as much as ECU 500 000 over five years, it was above ECU 350 000 in only 38 cases, whereas in 55 cases it was less than ECU 50 000 (excluding block grants). This confirms once more the NGOs' penchant for small-scale operations, which is in fact one of the main reasons for their success.

The 451 development projects cofinanced in 1988 included 79 block grants amounting to ECU 8.8 m. It is worth noting the trend in block grants over the last few years:

1982	1.2	4	25	161	7 453
1983	2.3	7	34	296	7 770
1984	3.1	9	39	383	8 202
1985	3.7	11	43	450	8 146
1986	5.7	13	50	671	8 507
1987	6.8	11	59	822	8 272
1988	8.8	11	79	961	9 153

The figures given above point to the progressive increase in block grants and in the number of recipient NGOs.

Lastly, it should be noted that 187 NGOs had at least one operation cofinanced in 1988 (44 being newcomers). In all, 603 NGOs were helped over the 1976-88 period.

Population concerned and recipient countries

The 451 development projects cofinanced in 1988 were carried out in 98 developing countries. The geographical breakdown shows that of the allocated funds 43% went to African countries south of the Sahara, 31% to Latin America, 20% to Asia, 5% to the Mediterranean area, and 1% to the Pacific.

Of the total Community grant ECU 26.9m (38%) went to ACP countries and ECU 44.3 m (62%) to non-ACP developing countries.

In 1988, 41% of the total appropriations available was allocated to countries with a per capita GNP of less than USD 500. However, it must be stressed once more that cofinanced projects are aimed by definition at the poorest sections of the population in developing countries, the country's per capita GNP being of only relative significance in practice.

2.1.2. Cofinancing of operations undertaken by NGOs to raise European public awareness of development issues

In 1988, 111 operations were cofinanced with 88 NGOs, at a total cost of ECU 8m (equivalent to 10% of appropriations available under Article 941). Table V in the Annex gives a complete list of operations cofinanced in 1988.

Over the year, 202 requests totalling ECU 17m were processed by the Commission. Of these, 25 projects, representing ECU 1.8m, were not accepted or were withdrawn by the NGO and the remaining 66 requests, representing a total of ECU 7.2m, were carried over to 1989.

Among the 87 cofinanced operations (excluding multi-project programmes), the topics most frequently dealt with were: general development issues (38 projects), food and agricultural problems (6), southern Africa (6) and industrial production and international trade (6). Greater emphasis was placed on cultural matters and the transmission of images and messages (7). The general public (32), schools (16) and opinion leaders, the media and political circles (15) were once again priority target groups (see Table VI in Annex for details).

The revised General conditions which came into force on 1 January 1988, paved the way for the experimental introduction of cofinanced "multi-project programmes" consisting of mini-operations carried out by NGOs and other organizations or informal associations to raise public awareness. The EC has cofinanced programmes with 24 NGOs, amounting to ECU 0.725m and covering a total of 184 mini-operations.

There were two major events in 1988. The first was the "European Public Campaign on North-South Interdependence and Solidarity", a wide-ranging programme organized by the Council of Europe in which the Commission was involved from the very beginning; under budget heading 941, it made a substantial contribution of ECU 1.5m to 27 joint NGO projects or programmes organized at European or national level.

Secondly, the NGO General Assembly adopted development education as its main theme. A number of recommendations were made covering, for example, the drawing-up of a code of images and messages, the identification of priorities for study and action, and the European dimension of awareness-raising operations.

In addition, a preparatory report on the evaluation of EC-cofinanced development education projects was drawn up by an expert for the Commission. The report contains a detailed analysis (by theme, target group, methods, etc.) of projects cofinanced between 1983 and 1987, and a methodological framework for evaluating them; it makes a useful contribution to the preliminary stage of the evaluation itself - this will be carried out during 1989/90 with the participation of experts and the NGOs involved.

2.2. Community food aid channelled through NGOs (Budget Chapter 92)

2.2.1. Total quantity made available to NGOs in 1988

The total quantity made available to NGOs in 1988 was 217 448 tonnes, broken down by product as follows:

Products	Quantities distributed (tonnes)	Variation in tonnage compared with 1987 (%)
Cereals	165 234	- 21.5%
Skimmed milk powder	28 110	- 5.5%
Butteroil	5 697	+ 51.5%
Sugar	3 750	- 3.8%
Vegetable oil	4 987	+ 18.3%
Beans	8 738	+ 173.1%
Dried fish	932	- 6.8%

In budget terms, the 1988 programme totalled ECU 109.3m, much the same as in 1987 (ECU 109.4m). The 1987 programme, however, represented an increase of 51.9% on 1986.

Food aid channelled through NGOs accounted for 22%, in value terms, of total Community food aid.

The breakdown of food aid operations carried out by the NGOs in 1988 is as follows (by volume, i.e. tonnage):

- development operations 19.4%
- refugee operations 5.5%
- social operations 62.8%
- emergency operations 12.3%

2.2.2. Breakdown by region

Annex VII gives an overall breakdown of the 1988 programme according to region.

As regards the ACP (see Annex VIII for details), there was no need to programme aid for Ethiopia during the second half of 1988 there had been a good harvest and the country still had large stocks of food aid; however, there was a significant increase in two Ethiopian regions - Eritrea and Tigre. It remained impossible to deliver food aid to southern Sudan. There was little activity in Angola, but large quantities were sent to Mozambique.

As regards the Maghreb countries (Annex IX), increased amounts were supplied to Sahrawi refugees in Algeria; NGO operations were coordinated on-the-spot by the Commission delegate.

The considerable reduction in food aid to the Mashreq countries (Annex X) is a direct consequence of the problems in Lebanon; food aid to the country has had to be postponed since the amounts requested bore no relation to the size of the population. Moreover, very little food aid ever reached the Muslim sections.

There was a considerable increase in food aid to Central America (Annex XI), especially to Guatemala and Nicaragua. The region was badly hit by cyclones at the end of last year.

Food aid to South America (Annex XII) dropped, Chile remaining the chief recipient. The amounts allocated to the region had to be reduced in the programming phase owing to heavier overall demand (it having been impossible to foresee events in Ethiopia and Lebanon).

In the Caribbean (Annex XIII), the Dominican Republic and Haiti both benefited from increased food aid to help counteract the effects of chronic poverty and cyclone damage.

As regards Asia (Annex XIV), food aid was distributed for the first time in Afghanistan. Large amounts of humanitarian aid were also delivered to Viet Nam.

2.2.3. Emergency food aid

Only one ad hoc emergency decision was taken; this was in favour of Mozambique and involved the NGO Deutsche Welthungerhilfe.

Ten other emergency operations were carried out using food aid available under the programme reserve. These were carried out by the following NGOs: Cebemo (Nicaragua), Protos (Haiti), Deutsche Welthungerhilfe (Afghanistan), Save the Children Fund (Malawi), Oxfam-UK (Uganda), Oxfam-B (Nicaragua), Diakonisches Werk (Nicaragua), Caritas-B (Rwanda), Dutch Interchurch Aid (Eritrea/Tigre) and Oxfam-B (Eritrea/Tigre).

2.2.4. Mobilization of food aid

The 1988 programme was the first real opportunity to test the effectiveness of the revised procedures for mobilizing food aid in the Community, contained in Regulation No 2200/87. On the whole, the revised procedures proved satisfactory and the experience gained in putting them into practice will be extremely useful when the Regulation is next revised.

2.3. Contributions to NGOs to help finance food purchases (Article 951)

Council Regulation 2508/88, which relates to this budget article, authorizes the cofinancing of food products (and of seed); furthermore, intervention does not have to be restricted to emergencies.

In 1988, ECU 5m was made available to NGOs for implementing the following operations:

Country	NGO	Community contribution (ECU)
Afghanistan	Christian Aid	750 000
Eritrea	Oxfam B	482 329
Eritrea ¹	Oxfam UK	1 494 384
Mozambique	Dutch Interchurch Aid	91 454
Senegal	Secours Catholique	261 637
Tigre ¹	Oxfam UK	1 244 306
Uganda	Oxfam UK	457 304
	Total:	4 781 414

All these operations were aimed at civil war victims, except the one in Senegal where food aid was brought in following a flood.

Now that Article 951 can be used to cofinance the purchase of seed, this should help NGOs promote food security at local level. However, the presentation of cofinancing requests needs speeding up, especially in emergencies.

2.4. Community emergency aid channelled through NGOs (Budget Article 950. Lomé Convention. Council Decision on association of OCT)

The total value of Community emergency aid implemented through NGOs in 1988 was ECU 29.9m, or 41.6% of the total (ECU 71.8m) approved by the Commission in 1988 for emergency relief in developing countries and other countries. These figures confirm the important role of NGOs in implementing Community emergency aid. Indeed, their contribution is even greater if one takes account of the fact that ECU 11.7m (equivalent to 16.3% of total Community emergency aid) was allocated for the international locust control campaign in Africa - an operation carried out mainly by the Commission, in view of the technical nature of the work and the fact that the Commission had built up a renewable stock of insecticide in Europe.

Breakdown of 1988 Community emergency aid by implementing channels (ECU '000)

	Comm- ission	Recip- ient Governments	NGO	UNHCR other UN	Red Cross	Unexpended balance ²	Total
EDF	8 736	2 434	19 973	210	8 411	2 136	41 900
Budget	880	1 625	9 912	5 160	7 358	4 995	29 930
Total	9 616	4 059	29 885	5 370	15 769	7 131	71 830
%	13.4	5.7	41.6	7.5	21.9	9.9	100

1 Includes two separate operations.

2 The bulk of the unexpended balance consists of ECU 6m for the anti-locust campaign which will be drawn upon in 1989 as and when necessary.

Community emergency aid is mostly used to assist the victims of drought and civil war, including refugees. Such operations account for 55% of the total, and are concentrated in Ethiopia, Afghanistan and Mozambique.

Owing to the scale and frequency of natural disasters in the second half of 1988, a total of ECU 11.4m (15.8%) was earmarked for assistance to earthquake victims, mainly in Armenia (ECU 10m). A further ECU 8.5m (11.8%) was allocated to the victims of the floods and cyclones which hit Sudan, Bangladesh and Nicaragua - most of this aid was channelled through NGOs.

In 1988, the NGOs continued to provide a rapid and effective channel for Community emergency aid. They carried out a huge range of operations, particularly in the medical, nutritional, health and logistical fields.

2.5. Aid to promote self-reliance among refugees and displaced persons, and facilitate voluntary repatriation in Asia and Central America (Budget Article 936)

Aid to promote self-reliance among refugees and displaced persons dates from a 1984 Parliament initiative. The aim of appropriations under Article 936 is to assist refugees and displaced persons for an intermediate period of two to three years after the first emergency covered by Article 950. Since 1986, repatriation operations have also been included.

Between 1984 and 1988, 51 projects (including preparatory studies and evaluation missions) totalling ECU 42.5m were funded, helping thousands of men, women and children in Pakistan, Thailand, Sri Lanka and Central America to attain some degree of self-sufficiency and, thanks to the efforts of European NGOs and international organizations, to begin earning a modest living again.

Total appropriations amounted to some ECU 3m in 1984 and were steadily increased to help meet requirements. In 1985 and 1986, the budget was ECU 5m; this was doubled in 1987 and increased to ECU 17m in 1988, with a further ECU 2m being transferred from another budget heading.

The growing desire for peace expressed at international conferences (beginning in 1987 in Central America and continuing later in Asia) has given fresh hope to the inhabitants of Central America, Afghanistan and Indo-China that they may be able to return home. This peace process has necessitated a substantial increase in appropriations.

All appropriations have been committed before the end of each financial year. Refugees absorbed 48% of the appropriations and displaced persons 15%, while 37% went toward repatriation operations.

There were 29 NGO-cofinanced projects (29% of appropriations), 19 projects (64%) involved UNHCR/UNERO and the UNDP, and 3 projects (7%) involved governments.

The geographical breakdown shows that Asian countries have received 50% of commitments (Pakistan, Thailand and Sri Lanka), Central and South America 47% (Mexico, El Salvador, Nicaragua, Honduras, Guatemala and Uruguay), and one project in Mozambique, 3%.

Article 936 cooperation covers the operational and capital costs of medium-term projects in all sectors - crop and livestock farming, fisheries, crafts, hygiene, health, training and housing, as well as technical assistance.

A total of 22 projects, amounting to around ECU 19m, were financed in 1988, 13 of them cofinanced with NGOs (ECU 4.2m or 22%). The thirteen projects are listed in Annex XV.

2.6. Aid to NGOs for operations in Chile (Budget Article 992)

This article was first entered in the Community budget in 1986 and was renewed for the same amount of ECU 2m in 1987 and increased to ECU 3m in 1988. The aim is still to provide assistance, through non-governmental organizations, to the people of Chile.

In 1988, 95 proposals were submitted to the Commission for financing, at a total cost of ECU 7.5m. The much greater number submitted, as compared with those in 1986 (40) and 1987 (71) shows that people both in Chile and in European NGO circles are becoming aware of the possibilities open under Article 992.

Of the projects submitted, 43 were financed for a total of ECU 3m (100% utilization rate). As in the past, the activities chosen were those aimed at giving direct help to the people of Chile, and in particular to those considered to be the poorest and most in difficulty. The Commission also endeavoured to strike a balance as far as possible between projects for the capital and those for the provinces, and amongst the different types of projects (social, economic, cultural, etc.), and the different sectors of activity (agriculture, craft industries, services, training, health care, etc.). Around a half of the projects were financed through European NGOs, with the rest being financed direct with Chilean organizations.

Lastly, it should be noted that the projects financed in previous years have either been completed, or are being satisfactorily implemented, with most showing very encouraging results.

2.7. Programme for North-South cooperation in the campaign against drug abuse (Budget Article 949)

The 1988 programme had a budget of ECU 5.5m. This enabled a total of 16 projects to be financed, with the commitments totalling ECU 5.4m. ie 97%.

NGOs received a total of ECU 2,3 million in eight financing operations; this represented 44% of total commitments. Details of the eight projects appear in Annex XVI.

In accordance with the guidelines drawn up by the Council on 26 January 1987, the activities were aimed at the various stages in the drug trade, with the intention of containing the illegal production of drugs, curbing their sale, and reducing - if possible preventing - their use; an extremely wide variety of projects could be used to achieve these aims.

Thus, alternatives to drug production can take the form of prevention (development projects aimed at the economically weaker population groups) or substitution (e.g. complementing programmes for eradicating drug crops), and may use a wide variety of methods.

Projects for curbing drug consumption may also be aimed at both prevention and cure, and are targeted either on the victims (treatment, rehabilitation of addicts), or on groups considered to be at risk or who should be more aware in general terms of the problem. Here too, such projects may be very varied and operate on very different levels: direct financing for projects on raising awareness and on prevention or for treatment centres, and the training of people to run such schemes; research and studies; strengthening of institutions and encouragement of coordination amongst those in charge, etc.

2.8. Special programme of assistance for the victims of apartheid (Budget Item 9530)

2.8.1. This programme was allocated ECU 10m in 1986, ECU 20m in 1987 and ECU 25.5m in 1988. In implementing the programme, the Commission follows the European political cooperation guidelines of 10 September 1985; these stressed that aid should be channelled through non-violent organizations such as churches.

Discussions with the two main South African church organizations in late 1985 and early 1986 made it clear that a similar, lay organization was required to enlarge access to Community aid. This led to the establishment of an organization called the Kagiso Trust. At the same time, it was decided that the unions would constitute a fourth, separate channel.

There are, therefore, four channels at present:

- the South African Council of Churches (SACC);
- the Southern African Catholic Bishops' Conference (SACBC);
- the Kagiso Trust;
- the unions.

2.8.2. The Commission decides whether to finance the projects these channels present on a case-by-case basis after consulting an ad hoc group of experts from Member States. Projects involving political organizations are not eligible for funding under the programme; projects should have peaceful, non-violent aims - most deal with training or education and have a humanitarian and social slant.

Projects are identified by the four channels on the basis of jointly agreed criteria and methods, and are presented to the Commission for financing by a European partner organization with experience of South Africa. For church and Kagiso Trust projects, an NGO is selected by an ad hoc committee (NGO Standing Committee); for the unions, a union or European partner federation is chosen.

2.8.3. From the beginning of the programme in 1986 until the end of 1988, 222 projects totalling ECU 55.9m were approved under the special programme. The number of projects approved in 1988 was 109, totalling ECU 29.9m. All budgetary appropriations available up to the end of 1988 were exhausted.

The overall total of ECU 55.9m is broken down as follows (in ECU million):

	Humanitarian/ social	Training/ education	Legal assistance	Total
Churches	13.38	8.01	2.80	24.19
Kagiso Trust	18.39	8.06	1.60	28.05
Unions	0.42	1.04	2.20	3.66
Total	32.19	17.11	6.60	55.90

The projects are all being carried out in South Africa, with the exception of six projects in Namibia amounting to ECU 1.07m.

2.9. Support for front-line states and SADC member States (Budget Item 9531)

A new budget item (9531), with an allocation of ECU 5m, was created in June 1988 to counteract a South African destabilization campaign in the front-line states. This enables the Commission to finance projects which would not normally meet Lomé Convention criteria. The projects have so far provided assistance for the training and education of refugees from South Africa and Namibia, training in union activities, assistance to displaced persons, support for orthopaedic workshops, assistance to children orphaned by regional conflicts, and so on.

The first decisions under the new budget heading were taken very quickly; by August, only two months after funds became available, 70% of the original allocation of ECU 5m had already been committed and disbursed. By the end of the year, all available funds had been committed to a total of 17 projects, in the following amounts:

- training	ECU 3 170 000	(63%)
- humanitarian projects	ECU 1 400 000	(28%)
- information/communication	ECU 300 000	(6%)
- other (e.g. feasibility studies)	ECU 130 000	(3%)
<hr/>
Total:	ECU 5 000 000	(100%)

Nine of the 17 projects, totalling ECU 3m (60% of available funds), are being implemented through NGOs.

2.10. Assistance to the populations of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip (Budget Article 966)

Following on from the Council's conclusions of 27 October 1987, a new budget article (966) was inserted into the 1987 Community budget for the financing of development projects in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip. Previously, the Community had been operating an ad hoc assistance programme (rural development, study grants and projects cofinanced with European NGOs), amounting to ECU 9m for the 1981-86 period - this figure includes ECU 4m channelled through NGOs under Article 941).

Under Article 966, the Community has financed a wider range of development operations. During 1987 and 1988, 22 projects were financed, the Community contribution amounting to almost ECU 6m (ECU 2.97m in 1987 and ECU 3m in 1988). The funds available were used for small-scale credit operations (40.2%), basic health (23.5%), technical and vocational training (18.4%), agricultural projects (15.9%) and general technical assistance (2%).

Three of the projects (12.2% of available funds) were carried out by European NGOs, eleven (68.7%) by Palestinian local organizations (credit institutes, health groups, etc.), three (17.1%) by UNRWA, and five technical assistance operations (2%) by European consultants or institutions. The total value of the projects carried out by European NGOs was ECU 530 000 in 1987 and ECU 200 000 in 1988.

Priority areas under Article 966 include small and medium-sized job-creating projects in agriculture and industry, technical and vocational training projects, and operations aimed at strengthening Palestinian local institutions. Projects are identified and designed in close collaboration with local organizations in response to the needs of the population and its own development efforts.

3. COFINANCING CONDITIONS AND EVALUATION (Budget Article 941)

3.1. On 1 January 1988 the revised general conditions for the cofinancing with NGOs of development operations in developing countries entered into force. The revision was based on the practical experience gained over the years, the evaluations carried out since the 1982 revision, the special report of the European Parliament on cooperation with NGOs (Ulburghs report) and the opinion of NGOs, whose representatives were closely and extensively consulted.

The main principles of cooperation with NGOs were maintained: priority for meeting the basic needs of the worst-off; involvement of the direct beneficiaries at all stages; encouragement of self-reliance; ensuring the long-term viability of cofinanced operations, and so on. In addition, the revised general conditions are aimed at providing NGOs with an improved flexible cofinancing instrument which also enables the Commission to ensure that NGOs make the best possible use of public funds (for which the Commission is, after all, accountable to the Community authorities).

The Commission sees the revised general conditions as providing a simpler, more comprehensive tool bringing improvements and innovations to the cofinancing system that have, to a large extent, been made in response to the wishes of the NGOs themselves.

Changes include the extension of the maximum duration of cofinancing operations from three to five years, and the increase in the maximum Community contribution to each operation from ECU 360 000 to ECU 500 000 (from ECU 720 000 to ECU 1m in the case of a consortium of two or more NGOs). In the case of directly productive operations, close attention is now paid to the constitution of financial resources (e.g. revolving funds, loans and bank guarantees) which can be re-used for other operations.

Furthermore, the procedures governing block grants have been made simpler, quicker and more flexible, with the aim of increasing the effectiveness of this instrument, much appreciated by the NGOs. A new partner support system has been introduced to strengthen the activities of grass roots organizations in developing countries ("Southern NGOs"); this enables money to be channelled through a European NGO to local organizations in developing countries without it having to be earmarked for specific purposes in advance.

The results of the first year of application of the revised general conditions show that a large majority of NGOs welcomed them and adapted to them quickly. The Commission will continue to apply this instrument with all the flexibility that cooperation with such a varied group of organizations requires.

3.2. The 1987 Commission report to the Council had already highlighted the importance of evaluation in maintaining the high quality of the increasing number of NGO-cofinanced operations. Now, with the entry into force of the revised General Conditions, there are three evaluation options open : self-evaluation by the NGO; joint evaluation by the NGO and the Commission; and overall evaluation by the Commission of selected projects.

During 1988, the Commission started to make regular use of these instruments. A growing number of NGOs were now included in their budget of operations for Community cofinancing a heading covering self-evaluation (whether at the beginning, during or at the end of the project).

At the same time, the Commission was increasingly frequently writing special clauses into cofinancing contracts whereby, in certain specific cases, a joint NGO-EEC evaluation would be performed during or after a project.

The objective in both cases is to introduce gradually "evaluation reflex" to ensure serious thought is given, right from the project identification stage, to the future of the project in terms of its effectiveness, efficiency, viability and impact. A mid-term review is a useful opportunity for making any adjustments that might be necessary. An end-of-project evaluation can help to decide whether an operation should go into its second stage or could be repeated elsewhere. In any event, a proper evaluation is always instructive and prevents the same mistakes from being made in the future.

A study was begun in autumn 1988 to arrive at a methodology for identifying, monitoring and evaluating small development projects, the idea being to produce a manual for European and local NGOs involved in the design, implementation, and evaluation of projects in developing countries. The work is being carried out by an NGO and the initial findings should be ready by mid-1989.

Finally, 1988 saw the preparatory phase of an evaluation of development education projects cofinanced with NGOs (see 2.1.1).

4. CONCLUSIONS AND OUTLOOK

4.1. With regard to Budget Article 941, not only were all the appropriations initially entered in the budget committed, but so too were all the top-up funds that were requested and transferred later. For the fourth year running, the commitment rate for the appropriations available was around 99%. In 1988, the NGOs showed they were able to absorb fully appropriations amounting to almost ECU 80m in the course of a single budget year. If the 1988 results are compared with 1986 (ECU 45m), it can be seen that the volume of operations cofinanced annually with NGOs almost doubled in two years.

This year, for the first time, the funds available (ECU 79m) have not only not increased, but have even declined slightly in relation to 1988. As a result, and because of the substantial carryover of projects from 1988 to 1989 (ECU 57,4 million), and the very high number of new cofinancing requests made at the beginning of the year it is foreseeable that the 1989 appropriations will be rapidly used up, in spite of the Commission's effort to devote the means available to priority projects.

A substantial increase in appropriations under Budget Article 941 therefore seems indispensable in both the short and the medium term.

4.2. Throughout 1988, as in the past, the NGOs maintained close cooperation with Parliament. The Council's Development Cooperation Group took note in September 1988 of the Commission's annual report covering the various aspects of NGO-Community cooperation in 1987. As part of its contacts with the Community institutions, the NGO-EC Liaison Committee continued its dialogue on development cooperation with the Council presidencies in 1988.

Lastly, the bodies providing representation of European NGOs (national assemblies, European General Assembly, Liaison Committee) continued to fulfil their institutional role throughout 1988.

The Commission hopes that in 1989 and the years to come the dialogue among NGOs themselves and with the various Community bodies will be continued and reinforced.
