COM(80) 98 final

Brussels, 10th March 1980

INFORMATION REPORT FROM THE COMMISSION
TO THE COUNCIL AND THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT
ON RELATIONS WITH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS (NGOs)
ACTIVE IN THE FIELD OF DEVELOPMENT, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE COFINANCING OF PROJECTS – FINANCIAL YEAR 1979

COM(80) 98 final

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

1. At its meeting on 28 November 1977, the Council of Ministers (Development) approved the procedure to be followed for the use of the appropriations for the cofinancing of projects with the NGOs.¹

That procedure includes a stipulation that the Commission will present an annual report to the Council on the use of the credits allocated during the preceding year.

It is in accordance with that procedure that the Commission is presenting this Communication, which deals with the use made of the Budget of 12 million EUA entered under Article 945 of the 1979 Community Budget².

2. Although relations with the NGOs are mainly in the field of project cofinancing in developing countries, other important areas for cooperation with the NGOs are also dealt with, notably Development Education in the Community and the coordination of relations with the NGOs.

² Increased to 12,501,248 EUA when one adds the unused balance of 34,248 EUA (Article 945) carried over from 1978 and the 467,000 EUA transferred in 1979 from the unused balance of Article 949.

REPORT ON RELATIONS WITH NON-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANIZATIONS
(NGOs) ACTIVE IN THE FIELD OF DEVELOPMENT, WITH SPECIAL REFERENCE TO THE COFINANCING OF PROJECTS (1979 BUDGET)

I. INTRODUCTION

In general, 1979 was both a year of consolidation and of expansion for the Community's policy of cooperation with NGOs. Consolidation in that cofinancing of projects in developing countries continued successfully, notwithstanding that, as funds available remained at more or less the same level as in 1978, many valid projects had to be carried over for cofinancing in 1980. On the other hand, following on the success of the two development education projects supported in 1978, funds committed for this purpose were more than doubled in 1979 thus permitting a number of interesting NGO activities aimed at increasing European public awareness of development matters to be cofinanced. In addition, the NGOs took important steps to improve and expand coordination both among themselves and vis-à-vis the Community.

This report deals with the whole range of these points.

II. COFINANCING OF NGO PROJECTS IN THE DEVELOPING COUNTRIES

A. Cofinancing operations under the 1979 Budget

A detailed breakdown of the projects approved for cofinancing is to be found in Tables I-V annexed to this Communication. These tables call for the following remarks.

1. Statistical Summary

The interest of NGOs in the Community's cofinancing scheme was further confirmed in 1979. They submitted 240 projects involving a total financial request from the Community of 22 m EUA which was almost double the budget available.

The Community's grants totalled 11,947,669 EUA for 152 projects introduced by 61 NGOs for implementation in 63 developing countries. (These figures include an amount of 400,621 EUA contributed by the Community in the form of block grants to 12 NGOs). In addition, 38 registered projects for which the amount requested exceeds 4,8 m EUA were carried over to 1980 due to the lack of sufficient funds. A further 9 projects, requesting 0,7 m EUA were not retained or were withdrawn by the NGOs during appraisal. Thus 199 projects with a total request of 17,8 m EUA were registered by the Commission in 1979. The remaining 41 projects were not admissible for various reasons notably the non-conformity of either the NGO or the project, or both, with the General Conditions of cofinancing and were thus not registered.

Payments (in whole or in part) in respect of 115 projects amounted to 4,818,801 EUA. The payment of the balance of 7,128,868 EUA in respect of projects approved in 1979 will carry on normally in 1980/1981.

2. The NGOs

Of the 61 NGOs with which projects were cofinanced in 1979, 15 have had projects cofinanced in each of the four years 1976 - 1979 (a figure increased to 23 for 1977 - 1979). On the other hand 13 NGOs had projects cofinanced for the first time. This balanced blend is a source of satisfaction as it shows a system in which continuity and consolidation operate in parallel with an openness to new approaches.

3. The scale of the projects

Continuing the experience of the previous year when the possibility of multi-annual project cofinancing was introduced (maximum Community contribution of 300,000 EUA over 3 years) some 60% of the Budget was committed in respect of these projects (with an average Community contribution of 148,000 EUA per project). On the other hand the average contribution to projects other than the multi-annual was 46,000 EUA.

As indicated in last year's report the Commission feels, that very small projects (i.e. where its contribution is less than 10,000 EUA) have a rôle to play in the development process, although until 1979 they had normally been excluded, for administrative and practical reasons. It was thus that a block-grant system was introduced whereby the NGOs who had proven their capacity and competence in previous cofinancings with the Community for three consecutive years were able to apply, under a simplified procedure, for grants, based on a percentage of previous normal cofinancing allocations, but subject to a maximum of 50,000 EUA, twice a year. Of the 16 eligible NGOs, 12 availed themselves of such grants in 1979 at an average of 33,000 EUA per NGO. A total of 46 small projects were supported in this way on which a complete analysis will be included in the 1980 report.

4. Type of project

Projects, as in the past, continue to vary from the provision of small scale equipment to integrated rural development, comprising production, training, social infrastructure and equipment. In general, projects tend to promote rural development and education/training although a significant number of projects in the health field were also supported. Mention, within the framework of the International Year of the Child, should also be made of the number of projects relating to child care and development. An interesting development, noted in earlier years but confirmed in 1979 has been the number of alternative energy projects cofinanced. This diversity and topicality demonstrates the flexibility of the NGO response and their capacity to react to local needs and initiatives in the most appropriate manner.

5. The beneficiary populations and countries

In 1979, projects were cofinanced in 63 countries situated in all the developing regions with 49%, 23% and 28% of the funds being committed in respect of the African, Asian and Central/Latin American continents respectively. Projects were cofinanced in 8 countries for the first time.

The populations concerned, mainly from the poor rural communities and, more rarely, in neglected urban groups are normally directly involved in the formulation, implementation and management of the projects.

It should be noted that certain countries seem to lend themselves particularly well to NGO cooperation, particularly in the context of the development programmes conducted by the authorities, where the NGOs find they have a rôle to play.

6. The multiplier effect of the Community contributions

The Community contribution is normally up to 50% of total costs; in only 14 duly justified exceptional cases, however, was that percentage exceeded.

It is noteworthy that in many cases the Community contribution is below 50% of the cost and the multiplier effect of the contribution invested by the Community is important. The total investment made via the NGOs in the 152 projects cofinanced in 1979 is 32 m EUA of which the Community contribution represents less than 40%.

7. Involvement of the authorities of the beneficiary countries

As in previous years, the Commission will forward this report to the Missions of the beneficiary countries in Brussels and to the ACP Secretariat for their information.

It should be remembered that before NGO projects can be financed they must first obtain the approval of the relevant authority on the spot. Certain governments have indeed explicitly confirmed their interest in NGO projects in their countries and are increasingly lending their active support.

8. Execution and monitoring of projects cofinanced under the 1979 budget appropriation

As in 1978, when multi-annual cofinancing was introduced, the payment of the Community contributions for a number of the 1979 projects will be phased over two or three years and will likewise involve a phasing of the implementation and monitoring work.

As from the beginning of 1980, the Commission can expect to receive the first implementation reports from the NGOs relating to their 1979 projects - in principle the NGOs are obliged to submit these reports six months after the final payment of the Community contribution. The procedures for the monitoring of those projects can therefore commence in 1980.

B. Administration of cofinancing operations undertaken in previous years

The administration (including monitoring and control) of projects cofinanced under the 1978 Budget (175 projects), the 1977 Budget (113 projects) and the 1976 Budget (75 projects) continued normally during 1979.

1. 1978

A total of 5,224,772 EUA was paid out in 1979 in respect of 96 projects. The remaining 3.4 m EUA must be paid out before the end of 1980 towards 36 projects.

Completed implementation reports have been received in respect of 42 projects and satisfactory information on the implementation to date of the other projects has been received.

The NGOs were unable to carry out in full the implementation as planned in respect of 2 projects because of the changed situation on the spot. In both cases the Commission has only made a partial subsidy to the NGOs concerned who have continued to keep it informed of developments. The amended figure for Community commitments in respect of 1978 projects is thus 11,799,833 EUA.

2. 1977

Completed implementation reports have been received in respect of 69 projects and the outstanding reports on the remaining projects are being actively followed-up.

During 1979 officials of the Commission's Directorate-General for Financial Control visited the headquarters of 12 NGOs in the Member States to examine the files of 35 projects cofinanced in 1977. While in general terms the officials were satisfied with the justification and verification of the Community's grants, in a few cases, the NGOs own accounting procedures made it difficult for the Community's participation in a project to be readily identified. These questions are being examined with the NGOs concerned.

3. 1976

With the exception of 12 projects, for which duly substantiated reasons have been advanced completed implementation reports have been received from the NGOs concerned.

In the course of their inspection described above, the Financial Control officials examined the files of a further 3 projects which, including those examined in 1978, brings to 58 the number of 1976 cofinanced projects thus inspected.

C. Evaluation

At the end of 1979 an exercise in comparative evaluation of NGO and EDF micro-project approaches was carried out by joint teams of Community and NGO nominated evaluators who visited a number of NGO and EDF micro-projects in Sierra Leone, Upper Volta, Cameroon and (NGO projects only) Bangladesh. A similar mission to Senegal was planned for January 1980.

A report on this exercise will be submitted to the Council and Parliament during the course of this year.

III. COFINANCING OF NGO DEVELOPMENT EDUCATION PROJECTS WITHIN THE COMMUNITY

1. During 1979 the Commission confirmed its commitment to supporting the Development Education activities of European NGOs by allocating 200,000 EUA from the NGO budget for their activities in this field.

The rules and criteria concerning the cofinancing of the Development Education activities were reported to the Council authorities in June 1978¹.

2. A detailed analysis of the 17 projects cofinanced, for a total Community contribution of 194,416 EUA, is annexed (Table VI). From this it can be seen that projects concentrated on relations between Europe and the Third World with emphasis on the Lomé Convention and on aspects of Industrial and Agricultural Cooperation between the Third World and the Community. NGOs participating in these projects include not only the development NGOs but also Farming circles, Youth organizations, Trade Unions, Cooperatives, and groups working in the formal education system. This is a source of satisfaction as experience has proven that projects, directed at selected target groups with their cooperation and participation, are the most effective.
3. A working group on Development Education has been set-up under the auspices of the NGO Liaison Committee to examine the possibilities for further NGO cooperation at Community level.
4. The Commission regards the task of making European Public Opinion aware of development issues and their effects on every day life as an important activity. It recognizes the unique rôle played by NGOs in this field and intends to continue to support their endeavours. To this end the allocation for Development Education in the future budgets should be substantially increased.

IV. FUTURE BUDGET REQUIREMENTS

As mentioned above the fact that the Budget appropriation for NGOs has remained at the same level in 1978/1979 has meant that the cofinancing of a large number of projects has had to be delayed or postponed. In order for the Community to continue its support for NGOs at an appropriate level, adequate funding should therefore be provided in future budgets.

V. OTHER NGO ACTIVITIES

1. Food aid

In the context of the Community's 1979 food aid programme, the NGOs were involved in the distribution of 25,000 t of skimmed-milk powder and 900 t of butteroil¹. This aid was shipped to 51 recipient countries by some 25 European NGOs, the more important being the organizations affiliated to Caritas and the World Council of Churches, and OXFAM.

2. Emergency aid

A number of NGOs were involved in the Community's 1979 emergency aid operations under:

Article 59 of the ACP-EEC Convention of Lomé, and Article 950 of the 1979 Community budget.

The operations in question were for the supply of various foodstuffs, medicines, fuels, clothing, etc. to disaster victims in a number of countries, especially to the people of Kampuchea at the end of 1979.

3. Volunteers

While, in the context of the NGO cofinancing scheme, the Commission does not support the costs incurred by the volunteer sending bodies in the recruitment, orientation and resettlement of volunteers, it is not at all uncommon for it to contribute, on the same basis as for any personnel necessary for the implementation of a project, towards the volunteers' in-situ costs.

Except for this effort, however, there has until now been no specific or separate programme of support for the volunteer sending organizations. Nevertheless, the Commission is very conscious of the contribution which can be made by volunteers and their sponsoring NGOs. It is for these reasons that the services of the Commission participate actively in the debate currently taking place on the overall rôle of volunteers and other workers in developing countries.

VI. COORDINATION OF NGO ACTIVITIES

1. The Fifth Annual NGO Assembly organized by the Commission, in consultation with the Liaison Committee of Development NGOs to the European Communities, took place in March 1979. More than 60 NGO representatives from the Member States, personally invited on the basis of their professional experience, attended this Assembly which discussed both the achievements of Community/NGO relations in the previous year and their perspectives for the future. The results of this meeting were widely circulated within the Community Institutions and to all interested NGOs.

2. The Assembly decided to extend the mandate of the 1978 NGO Liaison Committee (composed of one NGO representative from each Member State). During its year of office this Committee, which has the tasks of coordination with the Commission and inter-NGO coordination in the Member States and at Community level on all aspects of Community/NGO relations, met eight times both among themselves and with Commission officials. To facilitate its work with these tasks the Committee has benefitted since 1978 from an annual subsidy from the NGO cofinancing budget.
3. The 1979 Assembly instructed the Liaison Committee to examine the possibility of improving both the structure of the Assembly and the Committee and in particular of giving these bodies a more representative and democratic character. It was therefore decided that NGO Meetings should take place in each of the Member States to prepare for, and in particular to elect delegations to, the 1980 Annual General Assembly with the Commission. By the end of 1979 such national meetings had already taken place in Belgium, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and the United Kingdom, while those in Denmark, the Federal Republic of Germany and France were planned for early 1980. In the meantime the Liaison Committee has been investigating the possibility of registering itself as a legal entity and of obtaining formal recognition by the Commission.
4. As a follow-up to similar meetings which were held in 1976 and 1977 the Commission organized in November 1979 a further exchange of views between its officials and those from the Member States' Departments responsible for relations with NGOs on matters of mutual interest in the various areas of NGO cooperation. The NGO Liaison Committee participated, as it had done at the 1977 meeting, in part of this meeting.

VII. CONCLUSIONS

1. The Community's cooperation with NGOs has now become, after four years in operation, an established part of its overall development policy. It has evolved in a satisfactory manner and has made its own positive contribution to improving the situation of the poorest populations in developing countries.

2. By the end of 1979, more than 500 NGO projects had been cofinanced by the Community in 85 countries. These projects, in which the combined Community/NGO investment approaches 100 m EUA, represent a concrete achievement which should act as an encouragement for the future. In this regard it should be recalled that lack of sufficient budget appropriations in 1979 meant that many valid projects had to be carried over for cofinancing in 1980.
3. The Commission views with interest the growing involvement of NGOs and special interest groups in making public opinion more aware of development matters and intends to intensify cooperation with them in these areas.
4. The special character of NGOs is exemplified by their rapid and efficient response in 1979 to the tragic situation in South East Asia where, often with Community assistance, they were among the first to provide immediate relief.
5. In cooperating with the NGOs the Community recognizes their dedication and motivation and the catalytic rôle they play in expressing the solidarity of the people in Europe with people in the developing countries. It shares their concern for social justice and is certain that the steps taken, within the framework of the Annual Assembly and the Liaison Committee, will serve to improve their overall effectiveness while at the same time not diluting the diversity or individuality which makes them so representative of the non-official Community.
