INTRODUCTION

The Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (CITES) is implemented in the European Union (EU) through two main regulations: Council Regulation (EC) No. 338/97 and Commission Regulation (EC) No. 865/2006 (hereafter referred to jointly as the European Community (EC) Wildlife Trade Regulations).

According to Article 15 (c) of Council Regulation (EC) No. 338/97 of 9 December 1996 on the protection of species of wild fauna and flora by regulating trade therein, EU Member States should report biennially to the European Commission “all the information relating to the preceding two years required for drawing up the reports referred to in Article VIII.7 (b) of the Convention and equivalent information on the provisions of this Regulation that fall outside the scope of the Convention”.

The biennial report format for EU Member States consists of two parts: Part 1 is composed exclusively of questions included in the CITES biennial report format, and Part 2 includes supplementary questions which are related to information on the provisions of the EC Wildlife Trade Regulations, that fall outside the scope of CITES.

Biennial reports for 2007–2008 were received by the European Commission from 26 of the 27 EU Member States that were part of the EU during the reporting period. This compilation presents the individual biennial reports 2007–2008 from the 26 reporting EU Member States, in alphabetical order, in the format in which they were received.

The electronic version of annexes to the Biennial Reports 2007–2008 submitted by Member States are compiled on a CD-ROM and are available on the CIRCA website.

Referring to imports of CITES Appendix II species import permits are necessary in accordance with the EU regulations. To optimise and harmonize the application procedure the CITES Scientific Review Group (SRG) of the EU discusses regularly special import cases and concludes on basic scientific statements which either ends in a positive opinion to allow imports or comes to a negative opinion which leads to the restriction of respective imports. Our Scientific Authorities will be requested for an opinion in every case.

Depuis 1984, l'Union européenne applique les dispositions CITES au travers de règlements européens. Le règlement de base le plus récent étant le Règlement CE du Conseil n° 338/97 relatif à la protection des espèces de faune et de flore sauvages par le contrôle de leur commerce, entré en vigueur le 1 juin 1997.

Les modalités d'application sont prévues par le Règlement CE de la Commission n° 865/06 du 4 mai 2006 modifié par le Règlement CE n° 100/08 de la Commission du 4 février 2008. Ce dernier apportant de nouvelles dispositions résultant des mesures adoptées lors des 13^{ème} et 14^{ème} Conférences des Parties. Ces nouvelles dispositions concernent, entre autres, les dérogations pour les effets personnels et les exigences relatives au commerce du caviar ;

➤ Commerce :

Au niveau européen :

La réglementation européenne fournit des mesures plus strictes pour le commerce des espèces visées par la CITES:

- Un permis d'importation est requis pour les importations de spécimens des Annexes (CE) A et B ;
- Possibilité d'établir des restrictions à l'importation pour certaines combinaisons espèces-pays; avis négatifs à l'importation de certaines combinaisons espèces-pays établis par le "Scientific Review Group" de la CE.
- Les activités commerciales sont interdites en ce qui concerne les spécimens d'espèces inscrites à l'Annexe (CE) A sauf dérogations générales (ex. espèces fréquemment élevées en captivité, cf. Annexe X du Règlement n°865/06 du 4 mai 2006) ou particulières (certificats délivrés au cas par cas et sous certaines conditions).

Au niveau belge:

- Obligation pour toute personne commercialisant des spécimens d'animaux de l'Annexe A ou B de tenir un registre des entrées et des sorties.
- Espèces CITES visées par les Directives "Oiseaux" (n°79/409/CEE) et "Habitat" (n° 92/43/CEE). La compétence concernant la détention et de la commercialisation des espèces indigènes visées par ces directives appartient aux Régions.

➤ Possession/Détention:

Au niveau européen :

L'article 8.2 du Règlement n°338/97 prévoit que les Etats membres peuvent interdire la détention de spécimens, notamment d'animaux vivants appartenant à des espèces de l'Annexe A.

Au niveau belge:

La Loi du 28/07/1981 portant approbation de la CITES prévoit en son article 4 l'interdiction de détention de spécimens de l'Annexe I sauf dérogations générales ou particulières, visées à l'article 2 de l'AR du 09/04/2003 relatif à la protection des espèces de faune et de flore sauvages par le contrôle de leur commerce.

Les dérogations particulières sont notamment accordées aux personnes physiques ou morales détenant des animaux vivants de l'Annexe I qui ont, notamment, introduit un inventaire selon les modalités prévues.

L'arrêté royal du 16/07/09 fixant la liste des animaux qui peuvent être détenus établit une liste de 42 espèces de mammifères qui peuvent être détenus par des particuliers en Belgique. Cet arrêté royal est entré en vigueur le 1^{er} octobre 2009.

➤ Transport:

- Le Règlement CE n°338/97 rend contraignante l'application des règles de l'IATA pour le transport aérien d'animaux vivants et les directives de la CITES en matière de transport.
- La réglementation CE peut également restreindre les importations de spécimens d'espèces inscrites à l'Annexe B (CE) susceptibles d'une mortalité importante en cours de transport.

Des réunions auxquelles ont participé des experts ainsi que différents stakeholder ont ensuite été organisées pour trouver des solutions pratiques aux différents problèmes posés. Les résultats de l'étude ont démontré qu'il n'était pas nécessaire de revoir le Règlement du Conseil (n°338/97) à ce stade. Des modifications du Règlement n°865/06 et le développement de lignes directrices pour les Règlements 338/97 et 865/06. sont plutôt envisagés. (*) voir http://ec.europa.eu/environment/cites/pdf/studies/effectiveness_study.pdf. ➤ Parallèlement à ce processus, la CE a élaboré en juin 2007 un Plan d'Action européen visant à renforcer l'application de la réglementation CITES dans l'UE (EU Enforcement Action Plan). Il consiste en une série de recommandations entre autres sur la nécessité de fixer des pénalités suffisantes pour les infractions, de former les agents habilités à opérer les ontrôles CITES et d'accroître la coopération et les échanges d'information entre autorités de contrôle à l'intérieur de chaque Etat membre et au niveau de la Communauté. Ce plan devant se traduire ensuite par des initiatives concrètes dans les différents Etats membres notamment au travers d'un plan d'action national.				Eléments	Adéquate	En partie inadéquate	Inadéquate	Pas d'information	Compétences des organes CITES	X	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Clarté des obligations légales	X	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Maîtrise du commerce CITES	X	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Cohérence avec la politique de gestion et d'utilisation des espèces sauvages	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	X	Couverture par la loi de tous les types d'infraction	X	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Couverture par la loi de tous les types de sanction	<input type="checkbox"/>	x	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Application des réglementations	X	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Cohérence interne de la législation	X	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	Autre (veuillez préciser)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Ce groupe est présidé par l'organe de gestion CITES et est composé de différents représentants des autorités visées à l'article 7 de la loi, ainsi que d'une représentante du collège des procureurs généraux. Cette modification concerne la révision à la baisse du montant minimum des amendes à payer en cas d'infraction afin d'assurer une meilleure pondération entre le type d'infraction commis et le montant à payer. Le montant minimum de l'amende est donc passé de 1000 euros à 25 euros. Le montant maximum de l'amende étant toujours de 50 000 euros (les montants en question devant encore être multipliés par 5.5 (= centimes additionnels). Les modalités pratiques pour la mise en place du système des amendes administratives font l'objet actuellement d'une évaluation par l'organe de gestion et son service juridique. ➤ 3. ➤ Centres de sauvegarde:

- La Société Royale de Zoologie d'Anvers constitue le seul centre de sauvegarde officiellement reconnu pour les animaux vivants (le seul avec lequel l'organe de gestion ait signé un contrat). Comme ce centre n'a pas toujours la possibilité d'héberger les spécimens saisis, l'OG doit parfois faire appel à d'autres solutions (voir ci-dessous)

➤ Refuges désignés:

- "CARAPACE" asbl, siège au Parc Paradisio pour l'accueil des reptiles/amphibiens et des tortues en particulier
- Centre de revalidation, Opglabeeke (principalement oiseaux)

➤ Zoos

➤ Aquarium de l'Université de Liège: poissons, coraux.

➤ Musées:

- Institut Royal des Sciences naturelles de Belgique, Bruxelles: spécimens morts et invertébrés vivants
- Musée Royal d'Afrique centrale: spécimens morts

* Dans certains cas, assez rares, lorsque le placement n'est possible dans aucune des différentes institutions pré-citées et qu'il s'agit d'espèces sensibles, le service peut avoir recours à une solution alternative comme le placement chez un spécialiste connu disposant des installations adéquates pour accueillir les spécimens.

N.B. Les cas de refoulement vers le pays d'origine sont assez exceptionnels et ne se produisent que lorsque l'OG a l'assurance que les dispositions concernant le bien-être animal seront respectées.

➤ Cas de destruction de spécimens . En mars 2007 (voir communiqué de presse à l'Annexe n°5, on a procédé à la destruction de marchandises illégales saisies. Ces spécimens sans aucune valeur scientifique ou didactique particulière avaient été interceptés par les services de douanes lors de leur arrivée en Belgique.

Les marchandises avaient été confiées au Musée Royal d'Afrique centrale de Tervuren en vue de leur stockage temporaire. Il s'agissait d'environ 5 mètres cubes d'ivoire, d'articles de maroquinerie en peaux de reptiles, de peaux de félidés ainsi que des médicaments asiatiques comprenant des substances animales ou végétales interdites. L'opération de destruction s'est déroulée sous le contrôle de la douane et de responsables de l'organe de gestion CITES.

➤ Cas de vente publique : En octobre 2008 la douane de d'Anvers a procédé à la vente publique de 14,407 m3 de bois scié brut d'Fromosia (Pericopsis elata) importés illégalement.

17	Veillez fournir des indications sur toute mesure supplémentaire prise: ➤ Action caviar - décembre 2007 : Les actions « caviar » des autorités de contrôle CITES menées fin 2007 ont été précédées d'une formation des différents agents des autorités de contrôle assurée par le SPF et en partie par la douane (voir Annexe 5). Ces contrôles ont abouti à la saisie, en décembre 2007, dans les cuisines de deux restaurants de la capitale de respectivement, 1 kg de caviar, et ½ kg de caviar non étiquetés. Le laboratoire qui a effectué l'analyse ADN a mentionné qu'il s'agissait de caviar de l'espèce Acipenser naccarii. Fin 2008 de nouvelles actions de contrôle ont été menées qui ont permis la saisie de 3 kg 205 de caviar vendu en tant que commerce « annexe » dans un magasin de tapis. Les conteneurs de caviar (de 30 gr, 50 gr, 100 gr, 125 gr, 200 gr) saisis n'étaient pas étiquetés selon la CITES. Le commerçant a pu produire des preuves de l'origine légale (factures) pour une partie du caviar qu'il vendait mais l'analyse ADN a pu démontrer que le caviar vendu était d'une espèce différente que celle qu'il avait achetée. Ce qui a confirmé l'assomption d'origine illégale de ce caviar et permis d'étayer la procédure judiciaire en cours.

➤ Projet faucon pèlerin Falco peregrinus - décembre 2007 : L'institut Royal des Sciences Naturelles de Belgique (IRSNB- Institution enregistrée selon l'article 4.6 de la Convention CITES) a lancé un projet d'identification (bagues fermées et micropuces électroniques) de jeunes spécimens de faucons pèlerins de source sauvage. Des plumes de ces spécimens sont également prélevées lors de l'identification afin de répertorier leur ADN. L'objectif de ce projet est la mise sur pied d'une base de données reprenant les différentes données d'identification de ces oiseaux afin d'assurer leur suivi et de détecter les cas de fraude éventuels. En effet ces spécimens à haute valeur commerciale sont susceptibles de faire l'objet d'un prélèvement et commerce illégal.

➤ Action «rapaces»- année 2008 : dans la lancée du projet faucon pèlerin, un groupe de travail pluridisciplinaire a été créé afin d'organiser des contrôles ciblés de certaines espèces de rapaces dites « sensibles » auprès de certains éleveurs. Ce groupe est constitué d'un expert de l'IRSNB, d'agents des Régions (compétentes pour la conservation des espèces indigènes et pour la CITES), d'un représentant de la police fédérale et de l'organe de gestion CITES. La liste d'espèces 'sensibles' (19 espèces) a été établie sur base de certains critères tels que la présence naturelle à l'état sauvage en Belgique, le statut de l'espèce en Europe et en Belgique, l'existence d'élevage en captivité, la vulnérabilité, etc.. Les éleveurs ont été sélectionnés sur base de leur réputation dans le milieu. Les contrôles ont été effectués afin de vérifier la véracité des informations reprises sur les attestations d'élevage fournies à l'appui de demandes de certificats pour les jeunes spécimens déclarés nés en captivité. Des prélèvements de plumes ont été effectués sur chaque spécimen afin de contrôler le lien de parenté, et des analyses ADN ont été entamées pour les cas les plus pertinents.

➤ Publication en avril 2007 d'un rapport intitulé : "Le commerce illégal et la vente des espèces CITES en Belgique : ivoire d'éléphant et autres spécimens" (voir Annexe n°5)

➤ Certains engagements politiques relatifs à la CITES ont été développés dans le cadre du « Printemps de l'Environnement » (*) notamment celui de 'développer, en collaboration avec les autorités de contrôle fédérales et régionales compétentes, un plan d'action national visant à améliorer l'application de la réglementation CITES en Belgique'. Des actions concrètes ont été menées afin de respecter cet engagement notamment au travers de la participation au soutien financier d'EU-TWIX (voir point B9). D'autres doivent encore être réalisées : la création de centres d'hébergement supplémentaires de spécimens saisis, la modernisation des techniques de contrôles et l'instauration d'un centre de formation à l'intention des autorités de contrôle. Toutes ces actions devraient se développer en 2010 et années subséquentes.

(*) il s'agit du plus grand processus participatif, politique et décisionnel belge lié à l'environnement, initié en avril 2008 par le Ministre fédéral du Climat et de l'Energie. Tous les niveaux de pouvoirs concernés ainsi que la société civile ont été invités à participer à différents ateliers thématiques. Parmi les différents ateliers, celui axé sur la Biodiversité prévoyait entre autres des mesures à prendre au niveau de la CITES. Le but étant d'aboutir à des objectifs communs et des engagements de la part des autorités concernées, des actions concrètes devant émerger du processus. Les mesures pour lesquelles des accords politiques ont eu lieu ont été publiées en juillet 2008.

B. Legislative and regulatory measures

1	Has information on CITES-relevant legislation already been provided under the CITES National Legislation Project? If yes, ignore questions 2, 3 and 4. Yes (fully) <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes (partly) <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information/unknown <input type="checkbox"/>
2	If your country has planned, drafted or enacted any CITES-relevant legislation, please provide the following details: European Union (EU) law: EC Wildlife Trade Regulations (WTR) Since 1984, the European Union has been implementing the provisions of CITES, the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora, through common regulations. The most recent of these are the basic Regulation, currently Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 on the Protection of the Species of Wild Fauna and Flora by Regulating Trade Therein (entry into force: 1st June 1997) and its successive implementing Regulation, currently Commission Regulation (EC) No 865/2006 laying down detailed rules concerning the implementation of Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 (entry into force: 9th July 2006). These two regulations must be read together to understand the European Community wildlife trade law. Regulation No 338/97 has four Annexes of which A, B and C largely correspond to the first three appendices of the Convention. However these Annexes do also include some non-CITES listed species protected under EU internal legislation. The Annexes are revised according to the CITES appendices and were lastly amended through Commission Regulation (EC) No 318/2008 implementing the decisions at CITES CoP 14 (entry into force: 11th April 2008). The implementing Regulation (Commission Regulation (EC) 865/2006) was amended by Commission Regulation (EC) 100/2008 (entry into force: 25th April 2008) which incorporates Resolutions and Decisions adopted at CoP 13 and CoP 14, e.g. standard nomenclature, pre-Convention status, personal effects exemptions (caviar, seahorses, giant clam shells), restrictions for trade in caviar, sample collections covered by ATA carnets, retrospective issuance of documents or the new CITES Biennial Report format. In addition, there are EC Trade Suspension Regulations, currently Commission Regulation (EC) No 811/2008 suspending the introduction into the European Community of certain wild fauna and flora. All regulations are available through www under http://ec.europa.eu/environment/cites/home_en.htm. Places of introduction and export designated by EU Member States for Trade with third countries were revised and newly published (Official Journal of the EU, C 72, p. 52 ff., see also http://ec.europa.eu/environment/cites/pdf/list_points_of_entry.pdf) as well as names and addresses of the EU Management and Scientific Authorities (Official Journal of the EU, C 72, p. 1 ff, see also http://ec.europa.eu/environment/cites/pdf/list_authorities.pdf). National German Law The Federal Nature Conservation Act <BNatSchG> has been in force since 4th April 2002. Further revisions in 2007 and 2008 have not altered regulations which implement CITES or EC Wildlife Trade Regulations. Part Five of the Federal Nature Conservation Act is dealing with the protection of wild fauna and flora. The Federal Nature Conservation Act also grants powers to impose further more detailed rules which are laid down in the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species (<BArtSchV>, Federal Law Gazette I, p. 258). The national instruments of protection ensure effective enforcement of the international and European rules on the conservation of species. Both, directives and international conventions of relevance to species conservation are implemented. As far as transposition of the EC Birds Directive (removal, possession, keeping) is concerned, the Federal Game Conservation Ordinance <BWildSchV> (Federal Law Gazette I, 1985, p. 2040) contains provisions in respect of the species governed by German hunting law (Annex 1 to the Federal Game Conservation Ordinance). Specifically, the Federal Nature Conservation Act comprises the following provisions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The legal protection of species listed in Annex A and Annex B of the EC Regulation on species conservation as so-called specially protected species under national law;

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Information and access rights (Art. 50 of the Federal Nature Conservation Act); • The legal protection of species listed in Annex IV of the Habitat Directive 92/43/EEC and those European bird species protected under the Bird Directive 79/409/EEC; • The legal protection of indigenous species (Annex 1 of the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species); • General protection of all wild species occurring in Germany (Art. 41 of the Federal Nature Conservation Act: prohibition of removal, access and disturbance; introduction); • Prohibition of possession of specially protected species (Art. 42 para. 2 no. 1 of the Federal Nature Conservation Act); • National prohibition on the marketing of species not covered by the EC Regulation (Art. 42 para. 2 no. 2 of the Federal Nature Conservation Act); • Duty to furnish evidence of legal acquisition (Art. 49 of the Federal Nature Conservation Act); • Prohibition on ownership (Art. 7 of the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species <BArtSchV>, Art. 3 of the Federal Game Conservation Ordinance <BWildSchV>), and animal holding permits under Länder legislation; • Book-keeping and notification obligations (Art. 6 and Art. 7 para. 2 of the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species); • Marking obligations (Art. 52 para. 7 no. 2 of the Federal Nature Conservation Act, Art. 12 ff. of the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species); • Provisions to regulate and restrict the breeding, keeping and training in the wild of hybrids of birds of prey (Art. 8 ff. of the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species); • Provisions to regulate and restrict the keeping, transfer and sale of live animals of certain alien invasive species (Art. 3 of the Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species).

	The EU Wildlife Trade Regulations (Council Regulation (EC) 338/97 and its successive implementing Regulations, currently Commission Regulation (EC) 865/2006), have now been in place for over 10 years. The EU Commission decided to launch a study on the effectiveness of the Regulations, which was carried out by TRAFFIC and IUCN and completed in December 2007. The purpose of the study was to assess the effectiveness of the current EC Wildlife Trade Regulations in relation to the objectives of CITES to ensure that trade in species of wild fauna and flora does not threaten their survival. The study provided also options on how to address the issues and shortcomings identified. The Study can be downloaded from the following website: http://ec.europa.eu/environment/cites/pdf/studies/effectiveness_study.pdf The Study concludes that by and large the basic Regulation (Council Regulation (EC) No. 338/97) is effective in achieving the objective of CITES to ensure that trade in species is sustainable. Hence, at this stage a full revision is not necessary. However, there is considerable scope for rendering the Regulatory system more efficient and effective by revising the implementing Regulation (Commission Regulation (EC) 865/2006) or by developing guidelines for the implementation of both Regulations.

17	Please provide details of any additional measures taken: Enhancement of German customs enforcement in international trade in caviar The German Customs Criminal Agency (ZKA) had issued on 9th January 2007 a circular to all Customs Frontier Clearance Offices, to all Customs Investigation Services and all Main Customs Offices about fraud possibilities when releasing caviar for free circulation, into a customs warehousing procedure or in a transit procedure. According to internal investigations German customs found out that from in 2003 researched caviar containers up to 33% had been wrongly declared. For example containers had been declared as 'Osietra' (i.e. caviar from Acipenser gueldenstaedtii) whereas the tins actually contained 'Beluga' (i.e. Caviar from Huso huso) in order to reduce fiscal taxes. However the investigations revealed also declarations the other way round. The regional finance office at Hamburg did establish readily available molecular research methods to determine exactly the species from which the caviar originated. The circular issued by the ZKA encourages all customs authorities to send chilled samples of not more than 10 grams of shipments larger than 15 kilograms for respective investigations to the regional finance office in Hamburg. Risk List of CITES protected Appendix II/ EU Council Regulation No 338/97 Annex B species Within the European Community discussions on the establishment of list of animal and plant species listed in CITES Annex II and in Annex B of the EU Council Regulation which require special attention by officials from CITES enforcement authorities had already been established a few years ago. During the reporting period the CITES Management Authority (MA) of the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation (FANC) had for national purposes only reviewed and amended this EU-list which the EU Enforcement Working Group had set up based on following criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The species is highly in demand and in particular by specialists; - The species is hardly or rather difficult to breed or artificially to propagate in captivity; - There have been EU import restrictions established or there is a negative opinion by the Scientific Working group for the respective species; - The species has been regularly monitored in illegal trade; and - There is no information available on legal trade for the respective species. The risk list is not a closed list but constantly under review. It is considered to assist all enforcement agencies within Germany to apply specific and more intensified enforcement efforts in particular with regard to the legality of the species included in the list when these are detected within trade. The amended list was submitted by the CITES MA of the FANC to the Federal States CITES authorities in November 2007. Enhancement of enforcement in international trade in CITES protected timber In late 2007 the 'Standing Committee on Species and Biotope Conservation' of the Bund/Länder working group for Nature Conservation (BLANA) agreed at its 52nd meeting on the establishment of a CITES timber enforcement subcommittee under the chairmanship of the FANC. During the reporting period the subcommittee met twice. Major objectives of its work are to identify areas where controls of CITES protected timber species needs to be enhanced and intensified (i.e. builders yards, toy industry, music instrumental industries), how to handle stocks of CITES protected timber which had been acquired before CITES conservation legislation came into effect and finally to develop standardized guidelines for internal controls to be conducted by Federal State Authorities Implementation of EU Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 of 13th June 2007 With regard to the implementation of the EU Enforcement Action Plan the 'Standing Committee on Species and Biotope Conservation' of the Bund/Länder working group for Nature Conservation (BLANA) agreed at its 53rd meeting in May 2008 on two main focus areas in CITES enforcement in 2008 and 2009, i.e. international trade in caviar and in live turtles and tortoises. With regard to caviar an enforcement strategy paper had been approved with clear targets and deadlines including country wide standardized controls of the caviar trade in close co-operation with federal (customs investigations agencies) and regional authorities which were carried out between 1st November and 15th December 2008.

Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
9	If Yes, please give the species name and provide details of the kind of research involved. Examination of the declaration of origin for timber by means of distribution of isotopes Germany's Federal Foundation for the Environment ('Deutsche Bundesstiftung Umwelt') had funded during the reporting period a research project (project No. AZ 238957/312) undertaken by WWF Germany to develop a method by use of stable isotopes in order to determine the specific origin of timber. The principle objectives of the research project were to test the application of stable isotopes among different timber and to develop practical tools for enforcement purposes to allow detecting timber from illegal origin. The use of stable isotopes had proven to be rather successful examine trade in food items to detect their correct origin. The project which was undertaken on timber samples from Northern Europe and from SE Asia had proven that the applied method can be used. However the amount of samples researched will not allow to properly detecting country specific origins. More research is required. The 98 pages report was submitted in June 2008. Sustainable caviar production without the necessity of killing any sturgeons Already in 2005 Germany's CITES Management Authority had motivated and encouraged the 'Alfred-Wegener-Institut für Polar- und Meeresforschung (AWI)', which is a German Federal Government funded polar and ocean research institute established nearly thirties years ago as a foundation of public law, to continue it's research on developing non-lethal methods to produce high quality caviar from sturgeons raised in aquaculture.

	Since the protection under CITES of all sturgeon species worldwide the production of caviar from wild caught sturgeons has dramatically decreased. Irrespective of this development the demand in caviar worldwide remains high. This development has provided great incentives to develop both 'in-situ' and 'ex-situ' aquaculture for various sturgeon species including hybrids. Although growing fast in aquaculture, sturgeons need 5 to 8 years to mature until caviar can be harvested for the first time. In view of fish meal prizes which have doubled within the past 20 years and high operation costs of the culture plant, it is not efficient if the animals can be harvested for caviar only once in their lives. Until now, the caviar production from ripe ovulated eggs without killing the fish implicated a number of major problems. Contact to water during the washing process converts the outer layer of the ripe egg into a jelly mass, sticking together. Subsequent adding of salt let the soft eggs explode and the result is a slimy mass. Only unripe eggs harvested by opening the fish's body cavity were stable enough to sustain the procedure of making caviar. Caesarean sections to harvest immature caviar generally result in reduced fertility or often in death. By analyzing natural processes during egg fertilization, a new technique for caviar production from ovulated stripped sturgeon eggs was developed and patented by the AWI in 2008 at the German Patent and Trade Mark Office (DPMA) where the publication can be accessed in a searchable database (http://depatisnet.dpma.de/DepatisNet/depatisnet?window=1&space=main&content=recherche&action=einsteiger&session=c23b66f230dd48c72faf313941828207a1892d5c2163&stamp=11534) under publication number DE 102005050723. The advantages of the new technology are obvious: No denaturising and quality loss of a high value luxury delicacy as eggs remain in their native state. According to the positive response of star cooks and caviar traders, the result is a highly tasty caviar meeting the expectations of a spoiled gourmet. Harvesting of eggs is harmless for the fish and can be repeated over many production cycles. Further information on the research findings can also be accessed under following website: http://www.awi.de/de/institut/allgemeine_dienste/technologietransfer/marine_biotechnologies/sustainable_production_of_caviar/

	Update and translation of the computer based identification tool CITESwoodID into all official CITES languages A new version of the CITES timber identification programme CITESwoodID has been developed between September 2007 and August 2008. The programme is now available in an English, French and Spanish version. The CD should serve as a practical and quick approach for all persons and institutions involved in controlling import as well as export of wood and wood products of

CITES listed timber species. The primary objective of using the CD-ROM is to exclude timbers that are definitely not regulated under CITES and to provide a scientific basis for a simple risk analysis for any enforcement officials.

Study on utilization, trade and conservation of Hoodia gordonii in Southern Africa

In 2007 a study was carried out to investigate the population status, harvesting and trade of the CITES listed succulent species Hoodia gordonii in Southern Africa. Due to its use as an appetite suppressant, Hoodia raw material and products are significantly represented in international trade which is a matter of conservation concern. The study indicated that almost all traded material originated from the wild but that cultivated material will be provided now in large amounts.

Development of a proposal for CoP 14 to amend annotations for medicinal plant species

At the request of the CITES Plants Committee Germany's Scientific Authority for plants chaired a working group to review the existing annotations for CITES-listed medicinal plants species and developed in 2007 a proposal to amend annotations for several medicinal plant taxa. This initiative was necessary as the existing annotations did not adequately reflect the commodities in trade and included some ambiguous terms which led to confusion in trade reporting.

Development of principles, criteria and indicators for making non-detriment findings for wild specimens of medicinal plants.

Since the 17th meeting of the CITES Plants Committee in 2008 Germany has been chairing a working group to develop principles, criteria and indicators for the making of non-detriment findings for wild specimens of medicinal plants. The group has been working intersessionally. It has provided significant input to the 'International Expert Workshop on CITES Non-detriment Findings' held in November 2008 in Cancun, Mexico.

Trade in and conservation of two shark species, Porbeagle (Lamna nasus) and Spiny Dogfish (Squalus acanthias)

Since the 14th CITES Conference of the Parties (CoP) Germany's Scientific Authority did continuously collect new information on trade and conservation of the two shark species mentioned above in order to comprehensively revise and update the listing proposals presented at CITES CoP14 as Germany is considering to resubmit these proposals at the 15th CoP of CITES again.

5	Please provide details of any additional measures taken: The CITES Management Authority (MA) of the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation had taken note of the EU Enforcement Action Plan, published on 20th June 2007 in the official journal of the EU No. L 159/07 (Document 2007/425/EC) and began after the 14th CoP to CITES to nationally implement the recommendations contained in the action plan on which the Community had agreed upon unanimously. Since September 2007 the CITES MA started several initiatives on a national level to develop a national enforcement action plan in accordance with the provisions of CITES Resolution Conf 11.3 (Rev. CoP 14). Some of the actions recommended in the national action plan had already been implemented in Germany such as the rapid exchange of important information by electronic means through an electronic CITES newsletter, public awareness campaigns, training of enforcement officers or strong working relations among German officials in the different authorities and enforcement agencies. Such working relations are backed up both by formalized but also not formalized agreements and strong government support. In addition to these activities Germany had nationally started a process to implement further actions recommended in the EU Enforcement Action Plan. All relevant enforcement and management authorities involved in the implementation of CITES have been invited to collaborate on the creation and implementation of a national action plan. To meet these objectives an Interagency National Action Plan Working Group (IANAP-WG) was established at the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation. The IANAP-WG met already twice, i.e. in September 2007 and in February 2008. The IANAP-WG includes representatives from German customs services, the police, national and local CITES Management Authorities and other enforcement bodies. The main objectives and targets of this group are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to improve overall inter-agency cooperation; - to collect and distribute relevant information; - to identify enforcement priorities; - to coordinate public relation activities; and - to control and coordinate adequate training activities.

Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/> Comments: Germany has had no exports of wild taken specimen. 8	How many times has the Scientific Authority been requested to provide opinions? Germany is mainly an importing country. Exports took only place regarding specimen which were either bred in captivity or artificially propagated. In such cases the Scientific Authorities are requested to provide advice whether the conditions for artificial propagation or breeding in captivity have been met. Referring to imports of CITES Appendix II species import permits are necessary in accordance with the EU regulations. To optimise and harmonize the application procedure the CITES Scientific Review Group (SRG) of the EU discusses regularly special import cases and concludes on basic scientific statements which either results in a positive opinion to allow imports or comes to a negative opinion which leads to the restriction of respective imports. Since 1997 the number of single decisions taken on this level has increased considerably. By now these decisions account for already about 60 % of all import applications. Other applications are referred to Germany's Scientific Authorities for evaluation of their scientific aspects.

Within the scope of an EU-Commission funded Twinning-project with a CITES implementation component one official from Germany's CITES Management Authority (MA) from the FANC had contributed as lecturer to a CITES training seminar for national customs officers from 23rd -27th July 2007 in Bucharest, Romania.
3. From 10th - 11th October 2007 two representatives from Germany's Federal Agency for Nature Conservation CITES Management and Scientific Authority attended together with representatives from the CITES Secretariat, the European Commission, Spain and Belgium as lecturers at a CITES seminar in Chisinau, Moldova funded by the EU TAIEX programme. The principal subject dealt with during the meeting was implementation of CITES through national and international cooperation. Target groups trained during the meeting were representatives from the Management and Scientific Authority, customs agencies and other enforcement bodies.
4. The Slovakian CITES Management Authority (MA) had invited representatives from Germany's CITES Management Authority to participate actively as a trainer at CITES training seminars for customs officers held from 16th - 18th October 2007 and for environment inspection service and police held from 8th - 10th April in Slovakia. Both seminars were funded by the EU TAIEX programme.
5. In November 2007, Germany's Scientific Authority for Plants together with the Institute for Wood Biology and Wood Protection of the German Federal Research Centre for Forestry and Forest Products (BFH) held a training workshop on the identification of CITES timber species. About 40 participants from 13 countries (Belgium, Canada, Czech Republic, Finland, Germany, Greece, Indonesia, Italy, Latvia, Netherlands, Poland, Slovakia and UK) as well as a representative from the CITES Secretariat attended the workshop. Lectures and practical instructions were given by wood anatomists Dr. G. Koch and Dr. H.G Richter, (BFH, University of Hamburg). During the workshop all participants were trained on how to use the CD-Rom "CITESwoodID" as an identification aid for CITES listed timber species and how to exclude timbers that are definitely not regulated under CITES. Participants agreed that such training should be repeated to assist in building more capacity among CITES enforcement officials and to further the application of risk analysis of timber shipments
6. On 9th April 2008 the 'International Centre for Ivory Research (INCENTIVS)' held its 5th annual meeting at the University of Mainz. The objective of the meeting to which the CITES MA of the FANC contributed actively with a presentation on trade in ivory was to provide to stakeholders up-to-date information on trade in ivory, on advances in developing modern research methods on ivory authenticity and ageing or on ivory use in ancient cultures. The results of this workshop and previous ones held between 2004 and 2008 have been published mostly in English in 2008 in the FANC periodical 'BfN-Skripten' No. 288 – 'Ivory and Species Conservation' which is available in the world wide web as follows: <http://www.bfn.de/fileadmin/MDB/documents/service/skript228.pdf>.
7. From 5th - 7th May 2008 staff of Germany's CITES Management Authority participated in Bucharest as a trainer in an EU TAIEX Seminar for customs officials of Romania focusing on CITES enforcement matters.
8. On 8th May 2008 a Chinese delegation comprising five representatives from China's State Forestry Administration (CITES Management Authority) visited for two days Germany CITES authorities. During the discussions held with various representatives from Germany's CITES Management Authority agreement was reached to establish closer co-operation on general CITES enforcement issues such as on illegal trade in ivory, establishing a bilateral agreement on controlled deliveries and on better conservation of the significantly traded and non-CITES listed tropical timber species Merbau (Intsia spp.).
9. The CITES MA of the FANC had on 17th June 2008 organized a capacity building seminar for stakeholders in trade in medicinal and aromatic plants which was attended by representatives from 10 major companies involved in processing and trading in medicinal and aromatic plants.

10. Since 2004 Germany's CITES Management Authority of the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation (FANC) issues rather regularly an electronic CITES Newsletter ('Artenschutz-Info des BfN') which (provides information on recent developments in CITES relevant legislation, on infraction cases and development in illegal trade, on court cases or on any other issues of relevance to CITES implementation and enforcement government agencies within Germany. The overall well received and widely acknowledges newsletter is sent by e-mail to all regional CITES management, enforcement and implementation authorities of the 'Länder', to customs and criminal investigation agencies and to the CITES Scientific Authorities. During the reporting period three newsletters were issued in 2007 and four in total in 2008.

11. During the reporting period Germany contributed actively to the work of the European Union's Enforcement working group to develop common training materials for customs authorities or law enforcement officials at the various levels. Germany had been asked to take the lead of a subgroup which had been charged to prepare such common training materials for the Member States of the European Union.

12. Germany's Scientific and Management Authorities are using a scientific information system for international species conservation, 'WISIA' (www.wisia.de), which has been developed by the Scientific Authority of the FANC as an important reference system for dealing with scientific and management related aspects of species conservation. The Oracle based system which is accessible online both in German and in English contains comprehensive information such as on taxonomy, legal protection status and its history as well as on the distribution of the protected plant or animal species. Currently the internet database contains 30.000 scientific names, about 50.000 synonyms and 13.000 common names of protected animal and plant species. Furthermore the system provides searchable data sets on the conservation status and the distribution of its taxa. About 400 users per day, mostly from customs and regional CITES authorities, Ministries, Nature Conservation Organisations, traders or private individuals, contact free of costs WISIA-online. Any user can either choose between a synoptic overview and an individual species specific information set. Since 2006 WISIA-online can also be searched for strictly protected native non-CITES species. The legal relevance of the online information system is assured through continuous up-dates by Germany's Scientific and Management Authorities which were particularly labour-intensive after the 14th Conference of the Parties due to the many adopted nomenclatural changes of the species listed in the CITES Appendices.

13. Germany's Scientific Authority has developed the database 'ZEET' (www.zeet.de), with a complete collection of all individual decisions adopted at EU level on the import of protected species of fauna (under Annex A and B of the EU Wildlife Trade Regulation) from certain countries of origin, for internal and external use. Due to the complexity of EU legislation there is a considerable need of information in the public regarding the provisions on the import of protected animal species such as parrots, chameleons or brown bear hunting trophies. Although import permits are issued on a national basis a large number of decisions taken at EU level must also be taken into account. ZEET offers a direct overview of those protected species that may or may not be imported into the EU member states. ZEET contains 1,387 import decisions for 744 animal species (data as of 28th January 2009), supplemented by export quotas as officially reported by countries of origin for some 716 species/country of origin combinations. The data base of ZEET provides for a synopsis of all individual decisions and annual export quotas currently in force for respective species which are listed in alphabetical order by their scientific name. The German version is available via internet as a PDF-file (www.zeet.de). The ZEET information system targets at animal traders and importers, nature and species conservation authorities, breeders, journalists or media and private individuals interested in nature conservation. The legal relevance of the online information is assured by continuous up-dates by Germany's Scientific Authority.

14. From 5th - 7th May 2008 the government of Rumania had invited to a CITES training seminar funded through the EU TAIEX programme. A representative of Germany's CITES Management Authority of the FANC participated as a lecturer at this meeting.

15. The CITES Management Authority of Slovakia had organized a CITES training seminar for local CITES management and enforcement authorities from 10th - 11th September 2008. The meeting was also attended on special invitation by a representative of Germany's CITES Management Authority of the FANC who provided as a teacher specific input to the outcomes of the meeting which mainly focused on the European wildlife trade regulations.

2	If Yes, which agencies are represented and how often does it meet? Species Conservation Advisory Committee for the implementation of CITES A new advisory committee on "Conservation of Species in International Trade" was set up at the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation (FANC) in May 1995 (Federal Gazette No. 94, amended on 29th March 1999, Federal Gazette No. 67). Its task is to advise the FANC on the implementation of species conservation provisions, and also to advise the Federal Ministry for the Environment, Nature Conservation and Nuclear Safety <BMU> on the development of species conservation legislation relating to imports and exports. The advisory committee is composed of a total of 14 representatives drawn from the scientific community, nature conservation organisations and representatives from the industry, trade or consumer associations. The committee meets at least once a year. Both its day-to-day business and its working groups are managed by the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation. In 2003 the committee was constituted again for its 3rd term which is for four years. During the reporting period 2007/2008 the Species Conservation Advisory Committee met only once. The major focus of his work during the respective time period was on the preparation of the 14th Conference of the Parties of CITES, held in June 2007 in The Hague, Netherlands.

	1. From 7th - 9th October 2008 representatives from Germany's CITES Management and Scientific Authority participated at a regional CITES plants meeting for European parties held on the island of Lampedusa, Italy. One of the principal objectives of the meeting was to discuss and exchange information on several CITES plant species specific implementation, enforcement and capacity building issues. Furthermore current initiatives for CITES CoP 15 were introduced such as Germany's work on a draft discussion document on introducing timber certification and labelling for CITES listed timber species (http://www.cites.org/eng/com/PC/18/E-PC18-16-02-01.pdf) . 2. The head of Germany's Scientific Authority for plants participated actively at the International Expert Workshop on CITES Non-detriment Findings held from 17th – 22nd November 2008 in Cancun, Mexico. The presentation he gave on a comparison between non-detriment criteria in the IUCN checklist, EU guidelines and the International Standard for Sustainable Wild Collection of Medicinal and Aromatic Plants (ISSC-MAP) was finally taken up by a taxon specific working group, which developed and refined it. The final version is included in the report which was presented to the 18th meeting of the CITES Plants Committee (http://www.cites.org/eng/com/PC/18/E-PC18-14-04.pdf).

14	If Yes, please give a brief description. Sustainable Natural Resources Utilisation and Biodiversity Conservation in the Central Asian Region Germany's Agency for Technical Co-operation (Deutsche Gesellschaft für Technische Zusammenarbeit – GTZ) had been given the task to start in 2008 until 2013 a several years regional conservation project (project No. 2007.2184.5-001.00) on 'Sustainable Natural Resources Utilisation and Biodiversity Conservation in the Central Asian Region'. Target countries are Tajikistan and Kazakhstan which are home to several important CITES protected ungulates such as Argali (Ovis ammon), Urial (Ovis vignei), Markhor (Capra falconeri) or Saiga (Saiga tatarica tatarica). With regard to the Saiga antelope the project will among others assist some of the range states to implement respective CITES decisions adopted at the 14th Conference of the Parties (14.91, 14.93 and 14.96) but in particular the measures contained in the 'Medium Term International Work Programme for the Saiga Antelope (2007-2011)' which had been developed in support of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) under the Convention of Migratory Species (CMS) concerning the conservation, restoration and sustainable use of the Saiga Antelope. Concerning the Argali the project objectives is to establish among others privately controlled sustainable trophy hunting schemes with the involvement of local communities to better protect and control the local use of this still in the region economically important wild sheep. CITES/CBD synergy on development of an internationally recognized certificate of Origin/Source/Legal Provenance The CITES Management Authority of the FANC contributed actively to a CBD 'European Regional Meeting on an Internationally Recognized Certificate of Origin/Source/Legal Provenance' (http://www.bfn.de/fileadmin/MDB/documents/service/vilmreport2.pdf) held at the FANC's International Academy for Nature Conservation on the Isle of Vilm, 24 – 29 Oktober 2006 . The CITES Management Authority's (MA) contribution focused on the permit and certificate system under CITES in order to provide the attendants from Europe and North America with a 'lesson-learned-overview' to the Access and Benefits discussion under the Convention on Biological Diversity from a CITES MA perspective.

D8 Areas for future work

1	Are any of the following activities needed to enhance effectiveness of CITES implementation at the national level and what is the respective level of priority?
	Activity	High	Medium	Low
	Increased budget for activities	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Hiring of more staff	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Development of implementation tools	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Improvement of national networks	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Purchase of new technical equipment for monitoring and enforcement	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Computerisation	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	Other (specify)	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
	In particular for both Scientific Authorities hiring of more staff and the increase in financial resources is a burning issue. These two constraints have impeded the performance of both authorities in the past few years.
2	Has your country encountered any difficulties in implementing specific Resolutions or Decisions adopted by the Conference of the Parties?	Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
		No	<input type="checkbox"/>
		No information	<input type="checkbox"/>
3	If Yes, which one(s) and what is the main difficulty? Germany has encountered problems referring to the implementation of the requirements laid down in Res. Conf. 12.10 (rev. CoP 13) on 'Guidelines for a procedure to register and monitor operations that breed Appendix-I animal species for commercial purposes'. In general within Germany there are many hundreds of operations which breed animals in a commercial way. However only a few of them have applied for a CITES registration and were either registered or even rejected for registration. Furthermore as an importing country Germany is very often confronted with animals which originate from commercial operations not included in the register of the CITES Secretariat. Therefore the MA of Germany has been supporting since years any initiative on reviewing and streamlining the current registration guidelines. During the reporting period again two operations had been deleted from the register which currently (as of 31.12.2008) leaves Germany with only two operations to be included on the register of captive breeding operations that breed Appendix-I animal species for commercial purposes.
4	Have any constraints to implementation of the Convention arisen in your country requiring attention or assistance?	Yes	<input type="checkbox"/>
		No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
		No information	<input type="checkbox"/>
5	If Yes, please describe the constraint and the type of attention or assistance that is required.
6	Has your country identified any measures, procedures or mechanisms within the Convention that would benefit from review and/or simplification?	Yes	<input type="checkbox"/>
		No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
		No information	<input type="checkbox"/>
7	If Yes, please give a brief description.
8	Please provide details of any additional measures taken:

Comments on the reporting format

In principle the biennial report format as adopted at CITES CoP 13 has proven to be adequate and relatively easy to complete. Amendments, if necessary, shall be considered on a case by case basis and only in the scope of new decisions or resolutions adopted at a Conference of the Parties.

However the information value in relation to questions D1-5&6 and D2-5&6 referring to staff numbers and time spent on work in CITES Management Authorities and Scientific Authorities remains highly questionable as there are instances where such staff is not only working on CITES matters but likely also on other conservation or non-conservation issues. Hence it is extremely difficult and time consuming to evaluate precisely the time and work input on CITES issues only.

	Comments: Germany had taken note of the EU Enforcement Action Plan, published in the official journal of the EU No. L 159/07 (Document 2007/425/EC) and started after the 14th CoP to CITES to nationally implement the recommendations contained in the action plan. On a national level since September 2007 the CITES Management Authority of the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation (FANC) started several initiatives to develop a national enforcement action plan in accordance with the provisions of CITES Resolution Conf 11.3 (Rev. CoP 14). Some of the actions recommended in the above mentioned action plan have already been implemented in Germany such as the rapid exchange of important information by electronic means through an electronic CITES newsletter, public awareness campaigns, training of enforcement officers or strong new working relations among German officials in the different authorities and enforcement agencies. The working relations are backed up either by formalized but also not formalized agreements and strong government support. In addition to these activities Germany had nationally started a process to implement further actions recommended in the EU Enforcement Action Plan. All relevant enforcement and management authorities involved in the implementation of CITES in Germany have been invited to collaborate on the creation and implementation of a national action plan. To meet these objectives in 2007 an Interagency National Action Plan Working Group (IANAP-WG) was established at the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation. The IANAP-WG met already twice, i.e. in September 2007 and in February 2008. The IANAP-WG includes representatives from German customs services, the police, national and local CITES Management Authorities and other enforcement bodies. The main objectives and targets of this new working group are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to improve overall inter-agency cooperation; - to collect and distribute relevant information; - to identify enforcement priorities; - to coordinate public relation activities; and - to control and coordinate adequate training activities. Germany is a federal state consisting of 16 so called 'Laender'. 'Laender' authorities have powers for issuing intra-Community certificates, to carry out investigations and for controlling trade within the Community. An important body to coordinate activities and to ensure the uniform application of regulations within Germany is the standing committee 'Species and Biotope Conservation' of the "Bund/Laender" Association for Nature Conservation" (BLANA). In order to implement the EU Enforcement Action Plan a subcommittee 'Improvement of Enforcement' was established. Prepared by that committee main focus areas in enforcement (i.e. for 2008 caviar and timber, see CITES timber enforcement subcommittee already reported under C 17 of part I) have been agreed on. With regard to caviar an enforcement strategy paper had been approved with clear targets and deadlines including country wide standardized controls of the caviar trade in close co-operation with federal (customs investigations agencies) and regional authorities. These controls were carried out between 1st November and 15th December 2008. Future focus commitments will be made accordingly.

22 new	Do penalties take into account inter alia the market value of the specimens and the conservation value of the species involved in the offence, and the costs incurred? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIc.)	Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
Comments: In Germany there are directives regarding administrative offences which lay down that the market value of the specimens shall be considered. According to Germany's criminal law different criteria have to be considered, inter alia the severity of the offence which may also allow taking into account the conservation value of the respective species involved. In practice, a conservation value will not be known usually. Especially with regard to non-native species in many instances it seems to be impossible to ascertain the real conservation value. Germany has enacted legislative provisions that require the offender (i.e. importer in case of unlawful importation of protected specimens) and/or the carrier to meet the costs of confiscation, custody and storage.
23 new	Are training and/or awareness raising activities being carried out for a) enforcement agencies, b) prosecution services, and c) the judiciary? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIId.)	Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: - During the reporting period 2 seminars for local management and enforcement authorities (12 th -13 th September 2007 and 21 st - 22 nd October 2008) were held by the CITES Management Authority of the Federal Agency for Nature Conservation at the Species Conservation Centre of North-Rhine/ Westphalia at Metelen. The objectives of both seminars were mainly to understand the systematic of basic legal provisions of international species conservation legislation, i.e. Reg. (EC) No. 338/97, the EC Birds Directive, the EC Habitats Directive and of Germany's Federal Ordinance on the Conservation of Species. Furthermore the procedure on how to enforce and implement seizures and confiscations was discussed. Finally follow up procedures after confiscations such as hearings, writing of penalty notice, objection and court proceedings were practiced on simulated case studies. - Another seminar which also had been organized at the same place of venue in Metelen on 18 th April 2007 focused on capacity building raising awareness for lawyers, public prosecutors and judges. The focus of this seminar was laid on the basic legal provisions of international species conservation legislation, on trends of confiscations and responsibilities of Germany's customs criminal investigation service as well as on presentations of selected factual species conservation infraction cases from the perspective of a regional CITES Management Authority and a public prosecutors perspective. - German customs authorities have conducted several training seminars on legal matters but also on identification issues. Such seminars will be regularly held several times during the year (up to 10 seminars on legal matters and up to 8 identification seminars). Also for police forces regular training seminars have been offered.
24 new	Are regular checks on traders and holders such as pet shops, breeders and nurseries being undertaken to ensure in-country enforcement? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIg.)	Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: The domestic implementing legislation provides the local authorities with the power to carry out regular checks and to visit any facilities used for commercial purposes. These checks are regularly carried out by local authorities, in special cases also supported by police or customs authorities. In addition in 2008 the CITES enforcement agencies put a special focus on the check of caviar producing or repackaging plants and on caviar traders. This successful special investigation was carried out by local authorities in close cooperation with the German customs authority and the CITES Management Authority of the FANC. Furthermore, an overview about details on inspections by Germany's "Laender" Authorities has been provided in Attachment 1 referring to question C 1 of part I.

25 new	Are risk and intelligence assessment being used systematically in order to ensure thorough checks at border-crossing points as well as in-country? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIh.)	Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: The German customs has established a special unit which specifically deals with risk assessments only and which provides the relevant customs offices with substantial information. This unit is closely linked to and co-operating with similar units in other EU-Member States.
26 new	Are facilities available for the temporary care of seized or confiscated live specimens, and are mechanisms in place for their long-term re-homing, where necessary? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph Iii.)	Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: The wildlife conservation administrations in two Federal States in Germany (Bundesländer) have established facilities for the temporary keeping of confiscated live specimens. Being in charge of the public administration these facilities remain state-subsidised. If required both facilities are also able to quarantine specimens. In addition, some German NGO's have established similar facilities also subsidised by those. As above these facilities are readily prepared to take temporary care for protected wildlife specimens. In addition some of these NGO facilities are even able to quarantine specimens. Furthermore most 'bona fide' Zoological Gardens in Germany will offer their support if live specimens will be seized by government enforcement bodies. The long-term repatriation of confiscated CITES-listed animals will be handled on a case-by-case basis. A number of public facilities like Zoos or botanical gardens are able to keep such specimens. The administrative handling is also regulated. Generally a public contract will be signed between the keeping facility and the responsible government authority which on a case-by-case basis can comprise additional special provisions.
27 new	Is cooperation taking place with relevant enforcement agencies in other Member States on investigations of offences under Regulation No. (EC) 338/97? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIIe.)	Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: Such cooperation takes place on a case-by-case basis. Additionally Germany participates actively in meetings of the Enforcement Working Group.
28 new	Is assistance being provided to other Member States with the temporary care and long-term re-homing of seized or confiscated live specimens? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIIj.)	Yes <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No <input type="checkbox"/> No information <input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: Competent contact agencies were notified accordingly to other Member States.

29 new	Is liaison taking place with CITES MAs and law enforcement agencies in source, transit and consumer countries outside of the Community as well as the CITES Secretariat, ICPO, Interpol and the World Customs Organization to help detect, deter and prevent illegal trade in wildlife through the exchange of information and intelligence? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIIk.)	Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
		No	<input type="checkbox"/>
		No information	<input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: Liaison is taking place on a case by case basis
30 new	Is advice and support being provided to CITES MAs and law enforcement agencies in source, transit and consumer countries outside of the Community to facilitate legal and sustainable trade through correct application of procedures? (In accordance with Commission Recommendation C (2007) 2551 , paragraph IIII.)	Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>
		No	<input type="checkbox"/>
		No information	<input type="checkbox"/>
Comments: Such support is provided on a case-by-case basis but also by organizing and convening specific training seminars or visitor programs for foreign delegations of CITES Parties visiting Germany (details have already been reported under question D6-4 of part I).

In 2009 this decision will be repealed because suspension for that species is no longer required. In general, it could be asked whether decisions should depend on confirmation by the Secretariat because the Secretariat is increasingly (owing to workload or to lack of information) not able to do so. Through European Regulations and Directives these restrictions apply to more species, such as The European Bird and Habitat Directive. It is only possible to keep hawks with source C if accompanied by DNA fingerprints and an exemption for prohibition of possession. By national law for Annex A specimens of all sources it is obligated to keep a register, this also applies to birds of Annex B without a seamless closed foot ring. Birds of Annex A need to be marked conform the national law on foot rings. Other vertebrates of Annex A need to be marked conform EU Regulations.

PENAL PROVISIONS

In the reporting period new legislation has been accepted regarding the criminal code. Penal Code of the Republic of Slovenia (Ur. l. RS, No. 95/2004) has been replaced by the Criminal code (Ur. l. RS, No. 55/2008). The new act came in force only in November 2008 therefore most penalties appointed in this period are based on the later replaced Penal Code of the Republic of Slovenia.

PENAL CODE OF THE REPUBLIC OF SLOVENIA (UR. L. RS, NO. 95/2004)

The Penal Code stipulates an imprisonment of up to three years for an import or export of endangered plant or animal species contrary to international law. The same applies to illegal hunting of wild animals. In exceptional cases the perpetrator may be sentenced to imprisonment of up to five years. A fine and an imprisonment of up to five years are stipulated for a person or criminal organisation avoiding customs control while moving goods across the customs line. Art. 255 lays down that the goods involved in such offence are confiscated.

Whoever without permission or other authorisation hunts or kills a wild animal or traps it alive	A fine or imprisonment of 6 months up to 1 year	343

THE CRIMINAL CODE (UR. L. RS, NO. 55/2008)

The criminal code stipulates an imprisonment of up to five years for illegal possession, taking, harming, killing, export, import or trade of endangered plant or animal species, specimens or their parts or derivatives.

A fine and an imprisonment from six months up to ten years is stipulated if the item is of great or exceptional importance for nature protection or if this act is performed within a criminal organisation.
