Opinion of the Committee on the Environment, Public Health and Consumer Protection 17
By letter of 23 February 1990 the Council consulted the European Parliament, pursuant to Article 43 of the EEC Treaty, on the proposal from the Commission to the Council for a regulation concerning the animal health conditions governing the placing on the market of aquaculture animals and products.

At the sitting of 12 March 1990 the president of the European Parliament announced that he had referred this proposal to the Committee on Agriculture, Fisheries and Rural Development as the committee responsible, and to the Committee on Budgets and the Committee on the Environment, Public Health and Consumer Protection for their opinions.

At its meeting of 3 April 1990 the Committee on Agriculture appointed Mr McCubbin rapporteur.

The committee considered the Commission's proposal and its own draft report at its meetings of 25 and 26 April, 28 and 29 May, 17 and 18 September and 30 and 31 October 1990.

At the last of the above meetings the committee, on the recommendation of the Sub-Committee on Fisheries, adopted the draft legislative resolution unanimously.

The following took part in the vote: Colino Salamanca, Chairman; Graefe zu Baringdorf, Vice-Chairman; McCubbin, rapporteur; Carvalho Cardoso, Domingo Segarra, Fantuzzi, Funk, Happart, Keppelhoff-Wiechert; Lane, Lataillade (for Guillaume), Maher (for Kofoed), Morris (for Newens), Sonneveld, Stevenson and Verbeek.

The opinions of the Committee on Budgets and the Committee on Agriculture, Fisheries and Rural Development are attached.

The report was tabled on 5 November 1990.

The deadline for tabling amendments will appear in the draft agenda for the part session at which the report is to be considered.

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

THE COMMISSION PROPOSAL

1. The Commission proposal on animal health conditions is one of the proposals relating to the completion of the single market designed to facilitate the free movement of aquaculture animals and products.

2. The proposal lays down animal health rules with a view to:

- allowing the placing on the market and the free movement of aquaculture products
- protecting farms which are free of disease, so as to prevent the spread of epidemics.

3. In order to achieve these aims, the Commission sets a number of conditions for the designation of zones in the Community with a favourable animal health status.

4. It also lays down provisions governing imports from third countries.

5. The Commission also sets up a regulatory committee for the implementation of the regulation.

SOME CONSIDERATIONS

6. This proposal deals with an area which was hitherto regulated by the Member States but which requires a system of rules in view of the completion of the single market.

From this point of view your rapporteur welcomes the Commission proposal.

7. The subject to be regulated is all the more delicate in view of the fact that until now only two Member States have imposed a total ban on the importation of live aquaculture animals (Ireland and the United Kingdom).

8. The provisions proposed by the Commission seem fairly strict and provide adequate guarantees that the markets may be opened up without any great danger to animal health. Nevertheless, your rapporteur considers that a few amendments should be made.

In the Commission proposal, the amendments could cover the following points:

9. With regard to ornamental fish, in view of the fact that they are bred in an isolated environment, it is appropriate to lay down less strict conditions for placing them on the market, provided that the farms in question do not contain the species appearing in column 2 of Lists I and II of Annex A and are not in contact with watercourses.

10. With regard to wild fish and products thereof, when they are placed on the market they must be accompanied by the same transport documents as those specified in the proposal's general provisions (Article 10).
With regard to imports from third countries (Articles 17-23), the provisions could be more restrictive so as to provide better protection for Community farms (Article 22). It would in particular be useful to ban totally or partially imports of any live animals from the countries appearing on the list referred to in Article 18(1) where there have been instances of diseases which do not exist on the territory of the Community.

With regard to commitology (Articles 25 and 26), your rapporteur welcomes the conclusions reached by the Committee on Budgets in its opinion of 24 April 1990 in which it proposes that the regulatory committee provided for in Articles 25 and 26 should be turned into a management committee, in accordance with the Council Decision of 13 July 1987 (OJ No. L 187 of 18 July 1987, p. 33).
OPINION OF THE COMMITTEE ON BUDGETS

Letter from the Chairman to Mr COLINO SALAMANCA, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, Fisheries and Rural Development

Brussels, 25 April 1990

Subject: Opinion of the Committee on Budgets on the animal health conditions governing the placing on the market of aquaculture animals and products (COM(89) 655 - C 3-62/90)

Dear Mr Colino Salamanca,

The Committee on Budgets considered the above proposal at its meeting of 25 April 1990.

After consideration of the proposal, the Committee on Budgets contests the entry of administrative appropriations in Part B of the budget reserved for operating appropriations.

The Committee on Budgets therefore calls on the Commission to propose a more appropriate budget allocation when the preliminary draft budget is drawn up.

Furthermore, the Committee on Budgets notes that in order to implement this decision the Commission intends to be assisted by a regulatory committee. In accordance with Article 205 of the Treaty and the conclusions of the working party set up by the Bureau of the European Parliament to look into matters concerning commitology, the Committee on Budgets has adopted the amendments attached hereto.

Yours sincerely,

Thomas von der Vring

to the proposal for a

(COM(89) 655 final - C 3-62/90)

Article 25

Amendment No. 2
Article 26

Letter from the committee Chairman to Mr COLINO SALAMANCA, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, Fisheries and Rural Development

Brussels, 17 October 1990

Subject: Proposal for a Council regulation concerning the animal health conditions governing the placing on the market of aquaculture animals and products (COM(89) 655 final - Doc. C 3-0062/90)

Dear Mr Colino Salamanca,

At its meeting of 17 October 1990 the Committee on the Environment, Public Health and Consumer Protection considered the above-mentioned Commission proposal. It adopted the conclusions set out below and would be grateful if your committee would take them into account for the purposes of the draft report.

1. This proposal is one of a set of three proposals for regulations relating to marine products, namely: the proposal for a Council regulation laying down the health conditions for the production and the placing on the market of fishery products (COM(89) 645 final - Doc. C3-0080/90), the proposal for a regulation laying down the health conditions for the production and the placing on the market of live bivalve molluscs (COM(89) 648 final - Doc. C3-0054/90), and the proposal for a regulation discussed in this opinion.

2. The three proposals consequently form a whole, and it would be unfortunate if they were not dealt with together. All three stem (even though the Commission mentions the fact once only, in connection with the proposal on fishery products (COM(89) 645 final - Doc. C3-0080/90)) from an agreement concluded between the European Parliament and the Commission when - on 17 March 1989 - Parliament adopted its opinion on the proposal for a Council regulation laying down health conditions for the marketing of fish and fish products concerning nematodes (COM(88) 47 final - Doc. C2-0002/88). The opinion was delivered on the basis of a report drawn up by the Committee on the Environment, Public Health and Consumer Protection.

2 OJ No. C 96, 17.4.1989, p. 194
3. Taken as a whole, the three proposals show major inconsistencies, not only at the formal level, but also as regards the substance. They should accordingly be analyzed in parallel, article by article, annex by annex. The provisions appearing in the articles of one proposal are to be found in the annexes of another, and vice versa; the definitions are not harmonized; the competent authorities empowered to grant approval are not invariably the same, and, lastly, there is a degree of variation within the Community inspection system.

4. Finally, Chapter III of each of the three proposals concerned relates to imports from third countries. The European Parliament believes that the conditions governing imports from third countries must be the same as those governing intra-Community trade. It would again be preferable, therefore, as far as this matter is concerned, for Parliament to adopt a coherent position covering the three proposals.

I trust that you and your committee will bear these points in mind.

Yours sincerely,

(sgd) K. COLLINS
