FLASHBACK

At the meeting of Foreign Affairs ministers in Luxembourg Mr James Callaghan, Britain's Foreign Secretary, made his first post-referendum appearance and statement on Britain's future cooperation in the EEC; at the same meeting, the Nine agreed on a formula for helping Botswana's meat trade with the Community, lowering the levy paid by exporters by 90 per cent.

Agriculture ministers opened the way for renewed trade negotiations with the Maghreb countries by satisfying Italy's demand for safeguards in the event of high levels of competing fruit and vegetables from the Mediterranean. The agreement ends two years of discussion among the Nine.
