Subject: Use of the revenue for the co-responsibility
levy on dairy products

When the co-responsibility levy on dairy products was introduced it was agreed between the Commission and the agricultural organizations that the producers should be consulted on the use of these funds.

1. How have the funds from the co-responsibility levy been used? Can the Commission give details of the distribution between the 1981 and the 1982 budgets?
2. What part have the agricultural organizations played in this distribution?
3. How will the Commission consult the agricultural organizations as promised, so that the growing mistrust, caused partly by the fact that the money has not been fully utilized, can be dispelled?
