

PRAG, Derek: Chief of Publications Section, Press and Information Service of the European Communities (Common Market, Coal and Steel Community, Euratom).

- Born August 6, 1923, in Merthyr Tydfil, South Wales
- Married, with three children
- Home Address: 12, rue Adames, Luxembourg
- Bolton School, England, 1934-41. Scholar of Emmanuel College. Cambridge, where he was in residence 1941-42 and 1947-48
- B.A. Cambridge University 1948, Certificate of Competent Knowledge in Russian, Cambridge University, 1947.
- Studied Slavonic Languages and History, School of Slavonic and East European Studies, London University, 1942-43
- British Army (Intelligence Corps); active service in Egypt, Italy, and Austria 1943-47. Commanded Field Security Section.
- Worked with the John Lewis Partnership, first as trainee buyer and then as deputy buyer, 1949-50
- 1950, joined Reuter News Agency as sub-editor (Economic Services) 1953 foreign correspondent in Brussels, with special responsibility for international and European organizations; 1954-55, economic correspondent in Madrid, also manager of Comtelsa, economic news agency which is a subsidiary of Reuters and the Spanish News Agency, Efe.
- 1955, joined Information Service of the High Authority, European Coal and Steel Community
- 1960, appointed Chief of Publications Section in joint Press and Information Service of the three European Communities.