

Bio Information on Ernest H. Preeg

Born: July 5, 1934, New Jersey

Education:

B.S., Transportation (56), N.Y. State Maritime College
M.A., Ph.D., Economics (64), New School for Social Research (New York)

Work Experience:

1956-61: Merchant marine officer
1962-63: Lecturer in economics, Brooklyn College
1963-present: Foreign Service Officer, serving in Geneva, London and Washington; from 1969-72 as a member of the Planning and Coordination Staff and Special Assistant to the Deputy Under
Secretary for Economic Affairs

Publications:

Books: Traders and Diplomats, (The Brookings Institution, 1970); Economic Blocs and U.S. Foreign Policy, (The National Planning Association, January 1974)

Various articles and reviews

ERNEST H. PREEG

Present Position:

Director, International Blocs Project, International Division,
National Planning Association

Previous Positions:

- 1969-72 - Member, Planning and Coordination Staff, Department of State
- 1968-69 - Economic Officer, U.S. Embassy, London

- 1967-68 - International Affairs Fellow, Council on Foreign Relations and Guest Scholar at the Brookings Institution

- 1965-67 - Staff economist, U.S. Delegation to the Kennedy Round

- 1963-65 - International Economist, Office of Trade, State Department and on detail to the Office of the Special Trade Representative

- 1962-63 - Lecturer in Economics, Brooklyn College

- 1956-60 - Merchant Marine Officer (thru Chief Officer)
American Export Lines

Education:

- N.Y. State Maritime College 1952-56
(B.S. 1956, in transportation)
- New School for Social Research 1960-64
(M.A. 1961 and Ph.D. 1964, in economics)

Publications:

- Book, Traders and Diplomats (Brookings, 1970);
- Articles and book reviews, including contribution to Williams Commission, "Reciprocity and the U.S. Trade Agreements Program" (pp. 475-93).