GROUNDS

The Court of Auditors considers it necessary to examine the present system of evaluating and following-up the results of technical research financed wholly or partly from Community funds.

Audit work in this field at present being carried out by the Court of Auditors as part of its work programme will in this particular case have to rely on a study by a person with the requisite scientific qualifications. The Court of Auditors is therefore putting in motion the procedure for enabling it to release the appropriations provided for this purpose in chapter 100.
